SMU in the News
Highlights from Nov. 17-23, 2015

Students
SMU student Christina Cox talks about the rally against racial discrimination http://hereandnow.wbur.org/2015/11/17/southern-methodist-university-blackout

Alumni
SMU alumnus Blake Mycoskie, emphasizing experience over sales

SMU alumnus Brooks Oliver’s Pixels to Particles sculpture exhibit in Pittsburgh nicely reviewed http://triblive.com/aande/museums/9427546-74/oliver-vase-vessel#axzz3rygUuvDc

SMU alumnus Jamal Story receives TACA Award, which provides support for new artist residencies

SMU alumnus Aaron Sanchez writes about Hillary Clinton’s “hispandering”

SMU alumna Kali Rogers writes about leveraging her lib-arts background to launch a tech startup https://branded.me/mentors/kali-rogers/in-praise-of-the-liberal-arts-tech-entrepreneur

News
The Atlantic
Jeffrey Kahn, Dedman Law, the real court case behind the movie Bridge of Spies

Backstage
Meadows, actress Isabella Rossellini led master class last week

Bloomberg
Bernard Weinstein, Cox, Q&A about future energy prices

BYU Radio
Alexis McCrossen, Dedman, wasting time in America

CultureMap Dallas
Celebration of Lights makes holidays bright

Dallas Business Journal
Cox CEO Sentiment Survey names American’s Chairman and CEO Doug Parker
and here

Dallas Morning News
Dr. Turner, SMU students call for action on racial issues at blackout rally
and here
and here
and here
http://www.northtexasumc.org/north-texas-conference-news/offended-by-party-theme-smu-students-march-for-racial-understanding
and here
and here

Gerald Ford, trustee, received philanthropy award from the Dallas Historical Society

Irving ISD high school students visited SMU last weekend

Mustangs beat Tulane!

How Chad Morris plans to honor seniors who catalyzed change

Fort Worth Business
Patricia Kriska, Cox adjunct, North Texas Business Pitch Competition held last week

The Gospel Herald
Bonnie Wheeler, Dedman, docudrama featuring life, faith of Joan of Arc premiering this holiday season

Houston Chronicle
Robert Hunt, Perkins, a poll by the Public Religion Research Institute indicates that American Christians believe Muslim values are at odds with American values

Cox ranks No. 31 on StartClass list of MBA schools with highest graduate salaries and here (second item)

Rebekah Miles, Perkins, Christian leaders take issue with GOP stance on resettlement

Huffington Post
Renee McDonald, Dedman, childhood domestic violence impacts long term

Jack Levison, Perkins, co-writes with student William Glass, about the force of grief after Beirut and Paris attacks

KLIF radio
Joshua Rovner, Dedman, ISIS and Paris attacks

Latino Centric
Perkins hosts a travelling photography exhibit featuring Tejano pioneer Jose Policarpo "Polly" Rodriguez

Lubbock Avalanche-Journal
SMU among universities to benefit from Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation grant that will be used to create a national center aimed at reforming teacher preparation in the southern U.S.
http://lubbockonline.com/filed-online/2015-11-18/texas-tech-receives-7-million-gates-foundation-grant-teacher-reform

Oh So Cynthia
Hilltop Courses nicely cookbook featured

San Antonio Express-News
Cal Jillson, Dedman, Sen. Ted Cruz forgets Christian values

Texas Tribune
SMU mentioned in a story about opting out of campus carry Theater Jones
Clyde Valentine, Meadows, Q&A Meadows Arts and Urbanism initiative on Ignite/Arts Dallas and becoming involved in the Dallas arts scene http://www.theaterjones.com/ntx/features/20151117075351/2015-11-17/QA-Clyde-Valentiacuten

Meadows, production of Beware of the Dandelions nicely reviewed

Weekly Campus
Lyle students present robots programmed for ways-of-knowing competition

Cherri Gann ‘15
SMU News and Communications
Office of Public Affairs
P.O. Box 750174
Dallas, TX 75275-0174
214-768-7657