What is Justin doing now with his French degree?

"In September 2012 I accepted a two-year secondment in the Brussels, Belgium office of PwC - my language skills in French combined with my work in the US being the main differentiator between me and other candidates within the Firm. My wife and I love the location of Brussels at the heart of Europe and are taking full advantage to make trips to the neighboring countries while we're here. Everyone can follow along at <http://www.MontgomeryFest.com>."
