COMMUNITY HOUR AT PERKINS

ARCHETYPES AT WORK WITH SPEAKER HEATHER CARLILE, MA, LPC-S

Tuesday, April 23
11:30 am - 12:20 pm
Prothro Hall Room 222 and on Zoom at <https://smu.zoom.us/j/98219505703>

Do you want to know why your congregation functions or leans more toward dysfunction? Join this CHAP on “Archetypal Psychology,” a theory uncovering patterns within individuals and cultures “running the show” — visibly or invisibly. In this introduction to Archetypes at Work™, you begin to assess the positions of your ten personal archetypes.

Archetypes at Work™ makes these patterns conscious. Once we identify our current ranking of the roles, we can see where we are on the continuum of Too Much – Optimal – Too Little. At the center of this model are Five Realms: Order, Relationship, Creativity, Change and Action.

To be effective, we want to be agile in all five of these essential realms of personality, relationships, and leadership.

Our Speaker is Heather Carlile is a Guild Member for this cutting edge international transformational system. She is also a psychotherapist, trainer and educator. She has been implementing archetypes in mentoring people for over 30 years.

SENDING FORTH SERVICE
THURSDAY, MAY 2 AT 11:30 AM IN PERKINS CHAPEL

Livestream: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=X7iv3biDVM8>

The Rev. George Mason, Perkins Executive Board member and retired senior pastor of Wilshire Baptist Church, will be the preacher at this Service of Word and Table. The sending forth ritual is an extended benediction at the end of the service which allows us to mark the variety of passages that regularly occur at the end of the spring term: graduation, the beginning of internship, retirement, and others.

Community lunch "on the grounds" will be served after worship has concluded. Guests are welcome.

An extension of this Sending Forth service will be held at 1:00 pm (Central time), to provide opportunity for remote participants to receive the blessing prayers.

All are invited to join us at the following Zoom link:

COURSE OFFERING
EARLY AMERICAN DEFENSES OF A
WOMAN'S RIGHT TO PREACH
OT 8351: MAJOR MOTIFS OF
BIBLICAL THEOLOGY

TUESDAYS DURING THE FALL SEMESTER
2:00 - 4:50 PM

Discover the inventive ways in which women bucked the trend and defended their right to preach in early America—women such as Deborah Peirce, who composed her defense within forty years of the close of the American Revolution, famed abolitionist Sarah Grimké, Harriet Livermore, who preached three times in Congress, Antoinette Brown, the first ordained woman in the United States, and famed holiness preacher Phoebe Palmer. This unprecedented interdisciplinary course, taught by historian Priscilla Pope-Levison and biblical scholar Jack Levison, will explore how these women interpreted scripture, from Genesis 1:26-28 to 1 Timothy 2:8-15, in creative ways to support their conviction that women should preach.

This course illuminates a pivotal era in the history of biblical interpretation and American freedom of thought, when women combined a high regard for the inspiration of the Bible with newfound tenets of the liberty of the conscience. This would prove to be a peculiarly American phenomenon, reflecting the fresh breath of revolution, a burgeoning interest in the Bible, and the limits that hounded women. You will discover in these treatises riveting insight into how Americans interpreted—and continue to interpret—the Bible to defend a woman's right to preach.
