SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY

In 1911, a Methodist education commission made a commitment to establish a major Methodist university in Texas. More than 600 acres of open prairie and $300,000 pledged by a group of Dallas citizens secured the university for Dallas, and it was chartered as Southern Methodist University. In appreciation of the city's support, the first building to be constructed on the campus was named Dallas Hall. It remains the centerpiece and symbol of SMU. When the University opened in 1915, it consisted of two buildings, 706 students, a 35-member faculty, and total assets of $636,540. The original schools of SMU were the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Theology, and the School of Music.

SMU is owned by the South Central Jurisdiction of the United Methodist Church. The first charge of its founders, however, was that it become a great university, not necessarily a great Methodist university. From its founding, SMU has been nonsectarian in its teaching and committed to the values of academic freedom and open inquiry.

SMU also has maintained a strong partnership with Dallas and has given special consideration to area needs in the development of academic programs. In the 1920s, the first business curriculum was offered in response to a request by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce; the Dallas Bar Association supported establishment of the law school, and a forerunner of the engineering school was established with encouragement from the Dallas Technical Club.

After struggling through its early years and the Depression of the 1930s, SMU experienced a surge of growth after World War II. From the late 1940s to the end of the 1960s, more than half of the current buildings on campus were constructed. SMU's academic stature took on a new dimension when the first Ph.D. programs were instituted in 1957.

Today, Southern Methodist University offers a comprehensive curriculum through Dedman College – the college of humanities and sciences – and five schools: Meadows School of the Arts, Edwin L. Cox School of Business, School of Engineering and Applied Sciences, Perkins School of Theology, and School of Law.

The University offers nearly 70 undergraduate majors, Master's degrees in 60 areas, professional degrees in 3 disciplines, and Ph.D. degrees in 19 fields.

Enrollment for the 1998-99 academic year was 10,038, including 5,620 undergraduate students and 4,418 graduate and professional school students. SMU students come from all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and 100 countries. Over 70 percent of undergraduate students received some form of financial aid in 1998-99. About 20 percent of the student body are minorities. Seventeen percent of the total student body is United Methodist, 15 percent is Roman Catholic. Also represented in the student body are other Protestant denominations and other religions, including Judaism, Buddhism, Greek Orthodoxy, and Islam.

In addition to preparing students for graduate and professional schools, or more directly for their life's work, the University strives to enhance their social, moral, intellectual, and religious development so that they may lead worthy lives as individuals and citizens of the nation and of the world.

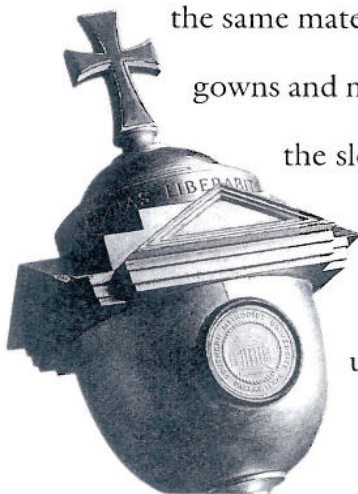

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION AND REGALIA

The academic procession and the regalia worn by the faculty and officers of the University symbolically represent the continuing link between the modern American university and the founding of the great medieval universities in Europe – chief among them Bologna, Paris, and Oxford. As those institutions were derived from the Catholic Church, the universities adopted many of the ceremonial trappings of the church in their official public functions.

The mace of the University, a symbol of the authority vested in the president by the Board of Trustees and representing the covenant between the president and the faculty, is borne by the president of the Faculty Senate. Though the order of the procession varies from university to university, at Southern Methodist University it proceeds from the chief marshal through the ranks of the faculty and the officers of the University to the president, who is preceded by the mace-bearer.

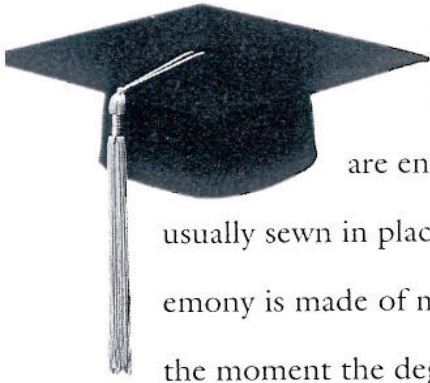

The caps and gowns worn in the procession also vary from place to place. There are variations in design to indicate the degrees held by the wearers, and many universities in America have introduced colorful gowns and other distinguishing details (in place of the customary clerical black from which all originated). The Bachelor's gown is a simple robe falling in straight lines from an elaborate yoke. Its distinguishing characteristic is the long pointed sleeves. Master's gowns are arranged so that the arm emerges from a long sleeve through a slit at the wrist (replacing a former slit at the elbow). In most cases, the Doctor's gown is marked by velvet panels down the front and around the neck, and by three bars of the same material on the bell-shaped sleeves. It is cut much fuller than the other gowns and may be ornamented in color. Faculty colors are occasionally seen in the sleeve bars and paneling.

The caps, too, vary according to the customs of the university from which the wearer received a degree. While most American universities adopted the “mortarboard” style of Oxford, others have chosen styles based on other European institutions. The color of the tassel worn with the cap may be black for any degree, or the color may be that of the faculty of the major field of learning (e.g., Arts, Engineering, Law, etc.). Persons holding doctoral degrees and governing officials of institutions are entitled to wear tassels of gold metallic thread. Such tassels are usually sewn in place. It is common practice, although not universal, that a ceremony is made of moving the tassel from the right to the left side of the cap at the moment the degree is awarded.

Within the great varieties of styles and colors in gowns and caps, there has been one universally accepted code for the hood worn trailing down the wearer's back. Originally, it was like the hood on the habit worn by monks. Nowadays, the hood through length and color shows the degree and the specialization of the wearer, and the university that granted the degree. The Bachelor's, Master's, and Doctor's hoods are 3 feet, 3 1/2 feet, and 4 feet long, respectively. The velvet trimming in the same order is 2, 3, and 5 inches wide. The color of the trim identifies the faculty. A partial list of faculty colors follows: Arts, Letters, Humanities – White; Music – Pink; Business – Drab; Philosophy – Dark Blue; Engineering – Orange; Science – Golden Yellow; Fine Arts – Brown; Theology – Scarlet; Law – Purple. The lining of the hood – that portion most visible from the rear – indicates the institution awarding the degree. SMU's hood lining, for example, is blue with red chevron.

Through these colorful ceremonies, SMU symbolically displays the continuity of its educational purposes with the origins of organized learning in the Western world.

RETIRING FACULTY

JOSEPH L. ALLEN

Joseph Allen, professor of ethics in Perkins School of Theology, earned an A.B. degree from Duke University, an M.Div. from Yale Divinity School, and a Ph.D. from Yale University. During his 42-year career at Perkins, he has challenged generations of theological students to think carefully and seriously about Christian ethics, ministerial ethics, politics and ethics, and social justice issues. His research has focused on the same issues and has resulted in numerous essays, books, and reviews. Professor Allen has provided leadership to both the School and the University through his membership on and chairing of a wide range of committees, and through his service on the Faculty Senate. In 1998 he was named a Maguire Scholar by SMU's Maguire Center for Ethics and Public Responsibility. He will retire as professor emeritus of ethics.

JAMES MARTIN GERHARDT

James Martin Gerhardt, associate professor of political science in Dedman College, received a B.S. degree from the United States Military Academy and M.P.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard University. He came to SMU in 1974 after serving on the faculty at Rice University. He has published works in the fields of military manpower procurement and technology and politics. He served the Political Science Department as director of Undergraduate Studies, as director of the Graduate Program in Public Administration, and as departmental chair. His contributions to the University include nine years of service on the Executive Committee of the Faculty Senate, three of those years as Senate secretary, and a term as Faculty Senate president. Professor Gerhardt has served students as long-time chair of the Truman Scholarship Nominating Committee and was faculty adviser to the SMU Lacrosse Club for 21 years. He will retire as professor emeritus of political science.

RICHARD HANSEN

Richard Hansen, professor of marketing in Cox School of Business, earned B.B.A., M.S., and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Minnesota. He joined the Cox School of Business in 1971 after teaching at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, the University of Arizona, and Florida International University. At SMU, Professor Hansen has served as Marketing Department chair and as associate dean at the Cox School. He has been actively involved in executive development programs and continues to be a sought-after speaker on marketing planning and sales management. He will retire as professor emeritus of marketing.

GEORGE MCMILLION

George McMillion, assistant professor of wellness (formerly physical education), earned a B.S. degree from SMU and an M.S. degree from North Texas State University. He served as assistant swim coach with A.R. "Red" Barr from 1958-1971 and then served as head coach for 17 years, until he retired to teach full time in the wellness program. During his tenure as coach, SMU won eight SWC championships and was the NCAA runner-up in 1983. During this same period, SMU produced 79 NCAA All-American swimmers and divers and six Olympic medalists. Coach “Mac” was named SWC Coach of the Year in 1972, 1976, 1977, and 1984 and received the “Big D” Award in 1978 for outstanding community service from the Dallas All-Sports Association. He has been the head coach at the Olympic Swim Festival on four occasions and took U.S. teams to France, Great Britain, Russia, and the World Games in Ecuador. In 1998 he was awarded the SMU Letterman’s Association’s Silver Anniversary Mustang Award. McMillion has taught countless numbers of students to swim through his SMU classes and the SMU Summer Learn to Swim Program, which he has coordinated for more than 27 years. Although retired as a professor emeritus of physical education, he continues in a new capacity as associate athletics director.

KENNETH L. PENEGAR

Kenneth L. Penegar, professor of law, earned A.B. and J.D. degrees from the University of North Carolina and an L.L.M. degree from Yale University. He came to SMU in 1986 after holding teaching and administrative positions at the University of North Carolina and the University of Tennessee College of Law from 1971 to 1986. He served as dean of the SMU School of Law from 1986 to 1988 and as a special assistant to SMU President A. Kenneth Pye from 1988 to 1989. He also was a member of the Faculty Senate. Dean Penegar has taught and published in the areas of criminal law, international law, jurisprudence, law and society, and the legal profession. He will retire as professor emeritus of law.

WILLIAM J.A. POWER

William J.A. Power, W.J.A. Power Professor of Biblical Hebrew and Old Testament Interpretation, joined Perkins School of Theology in 1959. He earned B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Toronto. Since 1991, he has held the chair established in his honor. With his wry wit and his passion for the language and content of the Hebrew Bible, Professor Power has charmed, informed, and inspired countless audiences at Perkins and across the nation with his sermons, lectures, and workshops. This impact has been extended globally through the United Methodist Church’s Disciple Bible Study Program, for which Professor Power has served as adviser and editor. He will retire as W.J.A. Power Professor Emeritus of Biblical Hebrew and Old Testament Interpretation.

CAMPBELL B. READ

Campbell B. Read, professor of statistical science in Dedman College, earned a Ph.D. from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He joined the SMU faculty in 1969. Generations of SMU graduate students know his well-prepared lectures and high standards for their solutions to assigned problems. Professor Read made a truly outstanding contribution to the discipline of statistical science during two decades of work on the Encyclopedia of Statistical Sciences. His Handbook of the Normal Distribution also exhibits his careful scholarship. He was honored for his contributions by election to the International Statistical Institute in 1995. Professor Read served for 12 years on the Faculty Senate, including three years as secretary to the Senate and to the general faculty. From 1983 to 1985 he served as faculty adviser to the Gay and Lesbian Student Support Organization during its efforts to gain recognition as an organization. Professor Read also has been active in environmental issues. He served as faculty adviser to Students for Environmental Concerns and served on President A. Kenneth Pye's Environmental Advisory Committee. He will retire as professor emeritus of statistical science.

WILLIAM R. RUSSELL

William R. (Bill) Russell, professor of economics in Dedman College, earned his B.S. in engineering and M.S. in business from California State University-Fresno and completed his Ph.D. in economics at the University of Washington. He came to SMU in 1971 after teaching at the University of Wisconsin, Michigan State University, and the University of Kentucky. As chairman of the Department of Economics from 1972-1977, Professor Russell led an ambitious faculty recruiting campaign. Thanks to his efforts, the department now has two endowed chairs and 16 faculty members dedicated to excellence in research and teaching. The department has been ranked consistently in the top 50 economics departments in the United States in research while emphasizing undergraduate and graduate teaching. Professor Russell also was a pioneer in the modern theory of decision-making under uncertainty. He will retire as professor emeritus of economics.

HARVEY WINGO

Harvey Wingo, professor of law, joined the SMU School of Law in 1967. He received his B.A. from Birmingham-Southern College and an M.A. and J.D. from Vanderbilt University. He served as associate dean for academic affairs from 1975 to 1977 and from 1986 to 1988. He was interim dean for the School of Law in the summer of 1986 and from 1997 to 1998. Professor Wingo was the Vinson & Elkins Distinguished Teaching Fellow from 1995 to 1997. He has taught and published in the areas of criminal law, criminal procedure, constitutional law, and mental conditions and criminal liability. Professor Wingo was the first recipient of the annual Don M. Smart Teaching Award established in 1982. He received the award again in 1992. His service to the University includes membership on the SMU Self-Study Steering Committee for the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (1989-1990), the Advisory Committee to the Provost on Program Discontinuance (1979), and the Judiciary Board (1974). He served on the Faculty Senate and was a member of its Executive Committee. He helped to draft proposals for the Texas Penal Code Revision Project (1968-1970) and the Military Justice Act of 1968. He will retire as the Vinson & Elkins Distinguished Teaching Fellow Emeritus and Professor Emeritus of Law.

BACCALAUREATE PREACHER

MARK CRAIG

The Reverend Mark Craig, senior minister of Highland Park United Methodist Church, has maintained an active relationship with SMU since his appointment in 1995 to the church's leadership. He is a member of SMU's Board of Trustees and serves on the Committees on Student Affairs and on Academic Policy, Planning, and Management. He also has served on the Buildings and Grounds Committee. A supporter of SMU athletics, the Rev. Craig is a member of the Mustang Club and attends football and basketball games. He also serves on the board of Texas Wesleyan University.

Before joining Highland Park Methodist Church, the Rev. Craig was the founding minister of Custer Road United Methodist Church in Plano, which has grown to be one of the largest Methodist churches in the area. A Fort Worth native, the Rev. Craig received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Austin College and a Master of Divinity degree from Duke Divinity School. He was awarded a graduate fellowship to St. Michael's in Dumfries, Scotland, in 1972 and was ordained as an elder in the Central Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church in 1973. He and his wife, Dr. Sandra Craig, live in Dallas.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

GEORGE W. BUSH

George W. Bush is serving his second term as the 46th governor of the State of Texas. He was born July 6, 1946, and grew up in Midland and Houston, Texas. He received a Bachelor's degree from Yale University and an M.B.A. from Harvard Business School. He served as an F-102 pilot for the Texas Air National Guard. Returning to Midland to establish an oil and gas exploration company, he worked in the energy business from 1975 until 1986, then moved to Washington to help in his father's presidential campaign.

George W. Bush assembled the group of partners that purchased the Texas Rangers baseball franchise in 1989 and later built the Rangers' new home, the Ballpark at Arlington. He served as managing general partner of the Texas Rangers until he was elected governor.

On November 8, 1994, he won the gubernatorial race with 53.5 percent of the vote. In a historic re-election victory on November 3, 1998, he became the first Texas governor to be elected to consecutive four-year terms, winning 68.6 percent of the vote. Governor Bush won 49 percent of the Hispanic vote, 27 percent of the African-American vote, 27 percent of Democrats, and 65 percent of women who voted. He won more Texas counties, 240 of 254, than any modern Republican other than Richard Nixon in 1972. He is the first Republican gubernatorial candidate to win the heavily Hispanic and Democratic border counties of El Paso, Cameron, and Hidalgo.

Governor Bush and his wife, Laura, a former teacher and librarian who grew up in Midland, reside in the Governor's Mansion in Austin with their 17-year-old twin daughters, Barbara and Jenna. Mrs. Bush received a Bachelor's degree in elementary education from SMU in 1968.

Governor Bush is a member of the United Methodist Church and has served on the boards of various charitable, business, and civic organizations.

CONFERRING OF HONORARY DEGREES

VIVIAN ANDERSON CASTLEBERRY, DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS

Vivian Anderson Castleberry, journalist and humanitarian, has been a courageous advocate for the rights of women and children throughout her lifetime. A 1944 graduate of SMU, Vivian Castleberry served as women's editor of the Dallas Times Herald for 30 years, helping to educate the Dallas community about social and political issues crucial to the advancement of the entire human family. The recipient of numerous awards in the field of journalism, she also has been honored for her formative role in The Women's Center of Dallas, Planned Parenthood, the Dallas Women's Foundation, and Peacemakers. In 1987-88, she convened the first Texas international conference on global peace. She has made a fundamental difference by continually focusing public attention on the basic issues of equality and justice. For her sustained contributions to our search for human equality, Southern Methodist University is honored to confer upon Vivian Castleberry the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa.

MURRAY GELL-MANN, DOCTOR OF SCIENCE

Murray Gell-Mann, theoretical physicist and educator, has significantly broadened our view of the universe's inner workings with his contributions to modern science. Recipient of the 1969 Nobel Prize in Physics, Dr. Gell-Mann is one of the world's most creative scientists. His seminal work on creation and development of the eightfold-way theory of approximate symmetry, the theory of neutral K mesons, strangeness theory, the theory of weak interactions, and the quark model of elementary particle structure has reshaped the boundaries of science and humankind's perception of the universe. He also has profoundly affected U.S. science policy while serving as a member of the President's Science Advisory Committee, the NASA physics panel (1964-69), the Jason Steering Committee, Institute for Defense Analyses (1961-68), and as chairman of the Western Center of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. For his achievements advancing our understanding of the universe, Southern Methodist University is honored to confer upon Dr. Murray Gell-Mann the degree of Doctor of Science, honoris causa.

CEREMONIAL BANNERS

The University's ceremonial banners were designed by Robert B. Chambers, associate professor emeritus of theatre, Meadows School of the Arts, and fabricated by Mamie Chambers. The banners bear heraldic designs with the color of trim identifying each school and group ushered this morning.

VAR SITY

Oh we see the Varsity,
Varsity, Varsity,
As she towers o'er the hill
Over there.
And our hearts are filled with joy,
SMU, SMU
Alma Mater we'll be true
Forever!
