She is a proponent of electron microscopy as a research tool through her involvement in the Texas Electron Microscopy Society and The Electron Microscopy Society of America. Under her guidance, the facility was used to train young scientists and to conduct basic research. Professor Allison is known for her studies on basement membranes and the effects of aging and steroid hormones on its structure. She is author of more than 100 articles, abstracts, and technical papers. More recently she has reviewed work for various biology texts and written a biology lab manual. Professor Allison also is known for her work on behalf of students. Throughout her career, she has been a strong advocate of the biology program and an architect for its future. He joined the SMU faculty in 1967 and has served as chair of the Department of Electrical Engineering and acting dean of the School of Engineering. A leading scholar in control systems and in wireless communications, Professor Gupta is the author or co-author of more than 120 papers published in technical journals and three textbooks. He also was elected fellow of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers for "contributions to the theory of phase locked loops and mobile cellular communication." He has supervised 60 Ph.D. students and has been selected by students as Outstanding Professor in the Electrical Engineering Department. Professor Gupta will retire as professor emeritus of engineering.

ELIZABETH GAMBLE MILLER

She joined SMU's Foreign Languages faculty in 1962 and served repeatedly as area chair for Spanish as well as resident director of the SMU-in-Spain program. Professor Miller is internationally renowned as a literary translator who has published three book-length translations of Latin American poetry and numerous translations of fiction, poetry, and critical essays. Since the founding of the American Literary Translators Association in 1982, Professor Miller has served as editor of ALTA Newsletter, the official journal of the association, playing a central role in promoting literary translation as a legitimate academic discipline. In recognition of Professor Miller's contributions to literary translation, Dedman College will continue to support her editorial work for five years after her retirement. She will retire as professor emerita of foreign languages and literatures.

RHONALD D. WALKER

Rhonald D. Walker, associate professor of accounting/business law and taxation, joined the SMU faculty in 1969 after earning his Master's in business administration from the University of North Texas and a Juris Doctor degree from Southern Methodist University. His professional qualifications include the Certified Public Accountant certificate, license to practice law in Texas before the Supreme Court of Texas, the Federal District Court for the Northern District of Texas, and the Tax Court of the United States. Professor Walker has served as associate dean of Undergraduate Programs and was chair of the former Law and Taxation Department, which is now part of the Real Estate, Insurance, and Business Law Department. He has been an officer for the University Assembly – now the Faculty Senate – and served as president of the Cox School of Business faculty. He was the faculty adviser for student tax competitions, which resulted in many students receiving graduate scholarships. Professor Walker will retire as professor emeritus of accounting.

D. FRED WENDORF

After spending the early years of his career as a museum archaeologist, Professor Wendorf joined the faculty at SMU in 1964 and served for many years as chair of the Department of Anthropology. Professor Wendorf has received more than 30 research grants from the National Science Foundation to support his archaeological work in the Eastern Sahara region of Egypt. He has discovered some of the earliest pottery in the world, the archaeological evidence for successful herding, and a complex of slabs and stones that predate Stonehenge. The author of more than 30 books, Professor Wendorf also has published more than 200 articles, book chapters, archaeological reports, and papers. In 1987 he became the first faculty member at SMU to be elected to the National Academy of Sciences. In 1996 he received the Lucy Wharton Drexel Medal for Archaeological Achievement from the University of Pennsylvania, one of the highest honors given for an anthropological archaeologist. Professor Wendorf will retire as Henderson-Morrison Chair Emeritus in Anthropology.

Professor Wooton will retire as professor emeritus of management and organizations.

CONFERRING OF HONORARY DEGREES

KATHY BATES, Doctor of Arts

Kathy Bates, a 1969 SMU graduate, initially earned her reputation as an actress in the theater. She received New York Obie and L.A. Drama Critics awards for her performance in “Frankie and Johnny in the Clair de Lune” and a Tony nomination and Dramalogue Award for the Pulitzer Prize-winning play “’night, Mother.” She has breathed life into a diversity of characters for such plays as “Vanities,” “Fifth of July,” and “The Road to Mecca,” demonstrating a range and talent descriptive of few. Punctuating her career in film and television are an Academy Award and a Golden Globe for her performance in the film “Misery,” as well as British Academy Award and Golden Globe nominations for “Fried Green Tomatoes.” Ms. Bates has expanded her interests to directing, receiving an Emmy Award nomination in 1999 for the television drama “Dash and Lilly.” Kathy Bates represents the professional that Meadows School of the Arts aspires to educate and train and provides a consummate role model for artists across generations. For her exemplary contribution to the art and craft of acting, and for the pleasures she has given countless theater, television, and film audiences, Southern Methodist University is honored to confer upon Kathy Bates the degree of Doctor of Arts, honoris causa.

FREDERICK EDWARD ROBIN BUTLER, Doctor of Laws

Lord Butler of Brockwell (Frederick Edward Robin Butler), public servant, educator, and Master of University College, Oxford, served for many years as Cabinet Secretary during the administrations of Margaret Thatcher, John Major, and Tony Blair in the United Kingdom. In this capacity he headed Britain’s entire Civil Service. In 1998 he was made a life peer and a member of the Royal Commission charged with reforming the House of Lords. Moving beyond the houses of Parliament, his generous spirit and deft leadership have enhanced the lives of students, faculty, and graduates of University College, Oxford. His hospitality is bestowed yearly upon SMU students and faculty because University College has long been the home of the SMU-in-Oxford and Dedman School of Law summer programs. For his deep engagement as high public servant and leader of a great educational institution, Southern Methodist University is honored to confer upon Lord Butler the degree of Doctor of Laws, honoris causa.

GLORIA STEINEM, Doctor of Humane Letters

For more than 30 years she has been a strong advocate for women’s issues while supporting movements for civil rights, peace, and economic justice for all. Her compelling presence as a social activist and journalist has persuaded people of differing political beliefs to unite behind the fundamental justice of gender equality. Her eloquent voice has motivated men and women to work for political and personal growth. For her unrelenting struggle on behalf of equality for all, Southern Methodist University is honored to confer upon Gloria Steinem the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa.
