In 2010-11 SMU commemorated the centennial of its founding and began a countdown to the 100th anniversary of its opening in 2015. The University's progress was marked by significant strides in a variety of areas, including enhancement of the quality of the student body, faculty and academic programs and the construction and renovation of campus buildings and facilities. The Second Century Campaign, the largest fundraising initiative in SMU history, continued to play a crucial role in enabling the University to move forward boldly, and by the end of the fiscal year SMU had received commitments for more than 70 percent of the campaign's financial goals. Thanks to the inspiring support of those who care about the future of SMU, the University is continuing to build a foundation for its next 100 years of achievement.

LETTER FROM THE CHAIR OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

This has been a time of bold thinking and planning at SMU.

As we celebrate the centennial of the University's founding in 1911 and opening in 1915, there is a widely held belief that we are on the cusp of something rather extraordinary in planning for the future.

This Annual Report chronicles the remarkable strides taken in the past fiscal year, the third year of The Second Century Campaign, and it shows strong evidence of an educational institution well on its way to becoming ranked among the nation's top 50 universities. The quality of the student body, the excellence of the faculty, the increase in alumni support and enhancements to the campus experience are all key positive indicators of SMU's rise to greater national and international prominence. Many have contributed to this progress, but none more so than the 10th president of SMU, R. Gerald Turner, and his administrative team.

My predecessor, Carl Sewell '66, also deserves special credit for stressing the importance of merit-based scholarships that enable the University to attract the best students from throughout the United States. The average SAT score of incoming students has reached an all-time high. At the same time, SMU has succeeded in recruiting a student body that features greater ethnic, socio-economic and geographic diversity.

Building on the strengths of a distinguished faculty long recognized for its excellence in teaching, support for new endowed professorships and chairs is enabling the University to broaden research initiatives and enhance students' educational experience. Central to SMU's mission is a commitment to combining the best of the modern research university with the best of the liberal arts tradition. New buildings and facilities are making it possible to expand research and educational initiatives through the creation of new centers and institutes.

Located in the heart of one of the nation's most rapidly growing regions, SMU provides exceptional opportunities for extracurricular programs that are crucial for students' development as future leaders and civically engaged citizens.

These impressive accomplishments could not have happened without generous support from SMU's alumni, parents and friends, who share a vision for the University in its second century as an institution dedicated to educating the leaders of tomorrow.

As Theodore Roosevelt said, "Far and away the best prize that life offers is the chance to work hard at work worth doing." Never has there been more important work than that of educating and preparing the next generation of students for the changing world they will occupy.

It is a privilege to be a part of such a worthwhile endeavor at this historic time in the life of the University.

SMU is thinking boldly, and our best days are ahead of us.

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

In 2010, as we anticipated celebrating the centennial of SMU's founding in 2011, we knew it would be a very special time in the University's history. But we could not have imagined the breadth of activity and achievement that actually occurred, based on the growing momentum pushing us forward and upward in all areas of the University.

For example, this spring, at the midpoint of The Second Century Campaign, we reached $538 million toward our goal of $750 million. To date, the campaign has raised funds for 224 new scholarships; 15 new endowed academic institutes, centers and initiatives; 21 new endowed faculty positions; and 16 new or renovated facilities.

In September we opened the new building for the Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development. This spring we announced funding from the Moody Foundation and David B. Miller '72, '73 and Carolyn Lacy Miller for the renovation and expansion of Moody Coliseum. Sarah Fullinwider Perot '83 and Ross Perot, Jr., committed support for the new Jerome M. Fullinwider Endowed Centennial Chair in Economic Freedom, named in honor of Mrs. Perot's father. Their gift brings to 83 the number of endowed faculty positions toward our goal of 100. This gift also is significant because it funds the first endowed chair at SMU to carry "Centennial" in its title, representing a new opportunity for giving during the centennial period, 2011-2015. Similarly, we have established Centennial Scholarships as another giving option.

High-profile events attracted visitors from around the globe: the groundbreaking for the George W. Bush Presidential Center, an exhibit of presidential artifacts at the Meadows Museum and several Bush Institute symposia – on topics such as Afghan women, the U.S. economy and freedom in the Middle East. International media also assembled on campus for a visit by His Holiness the Dalai Lama, who spoke during the Hart Global Leaders Forum and received an honorary degree from SMU.

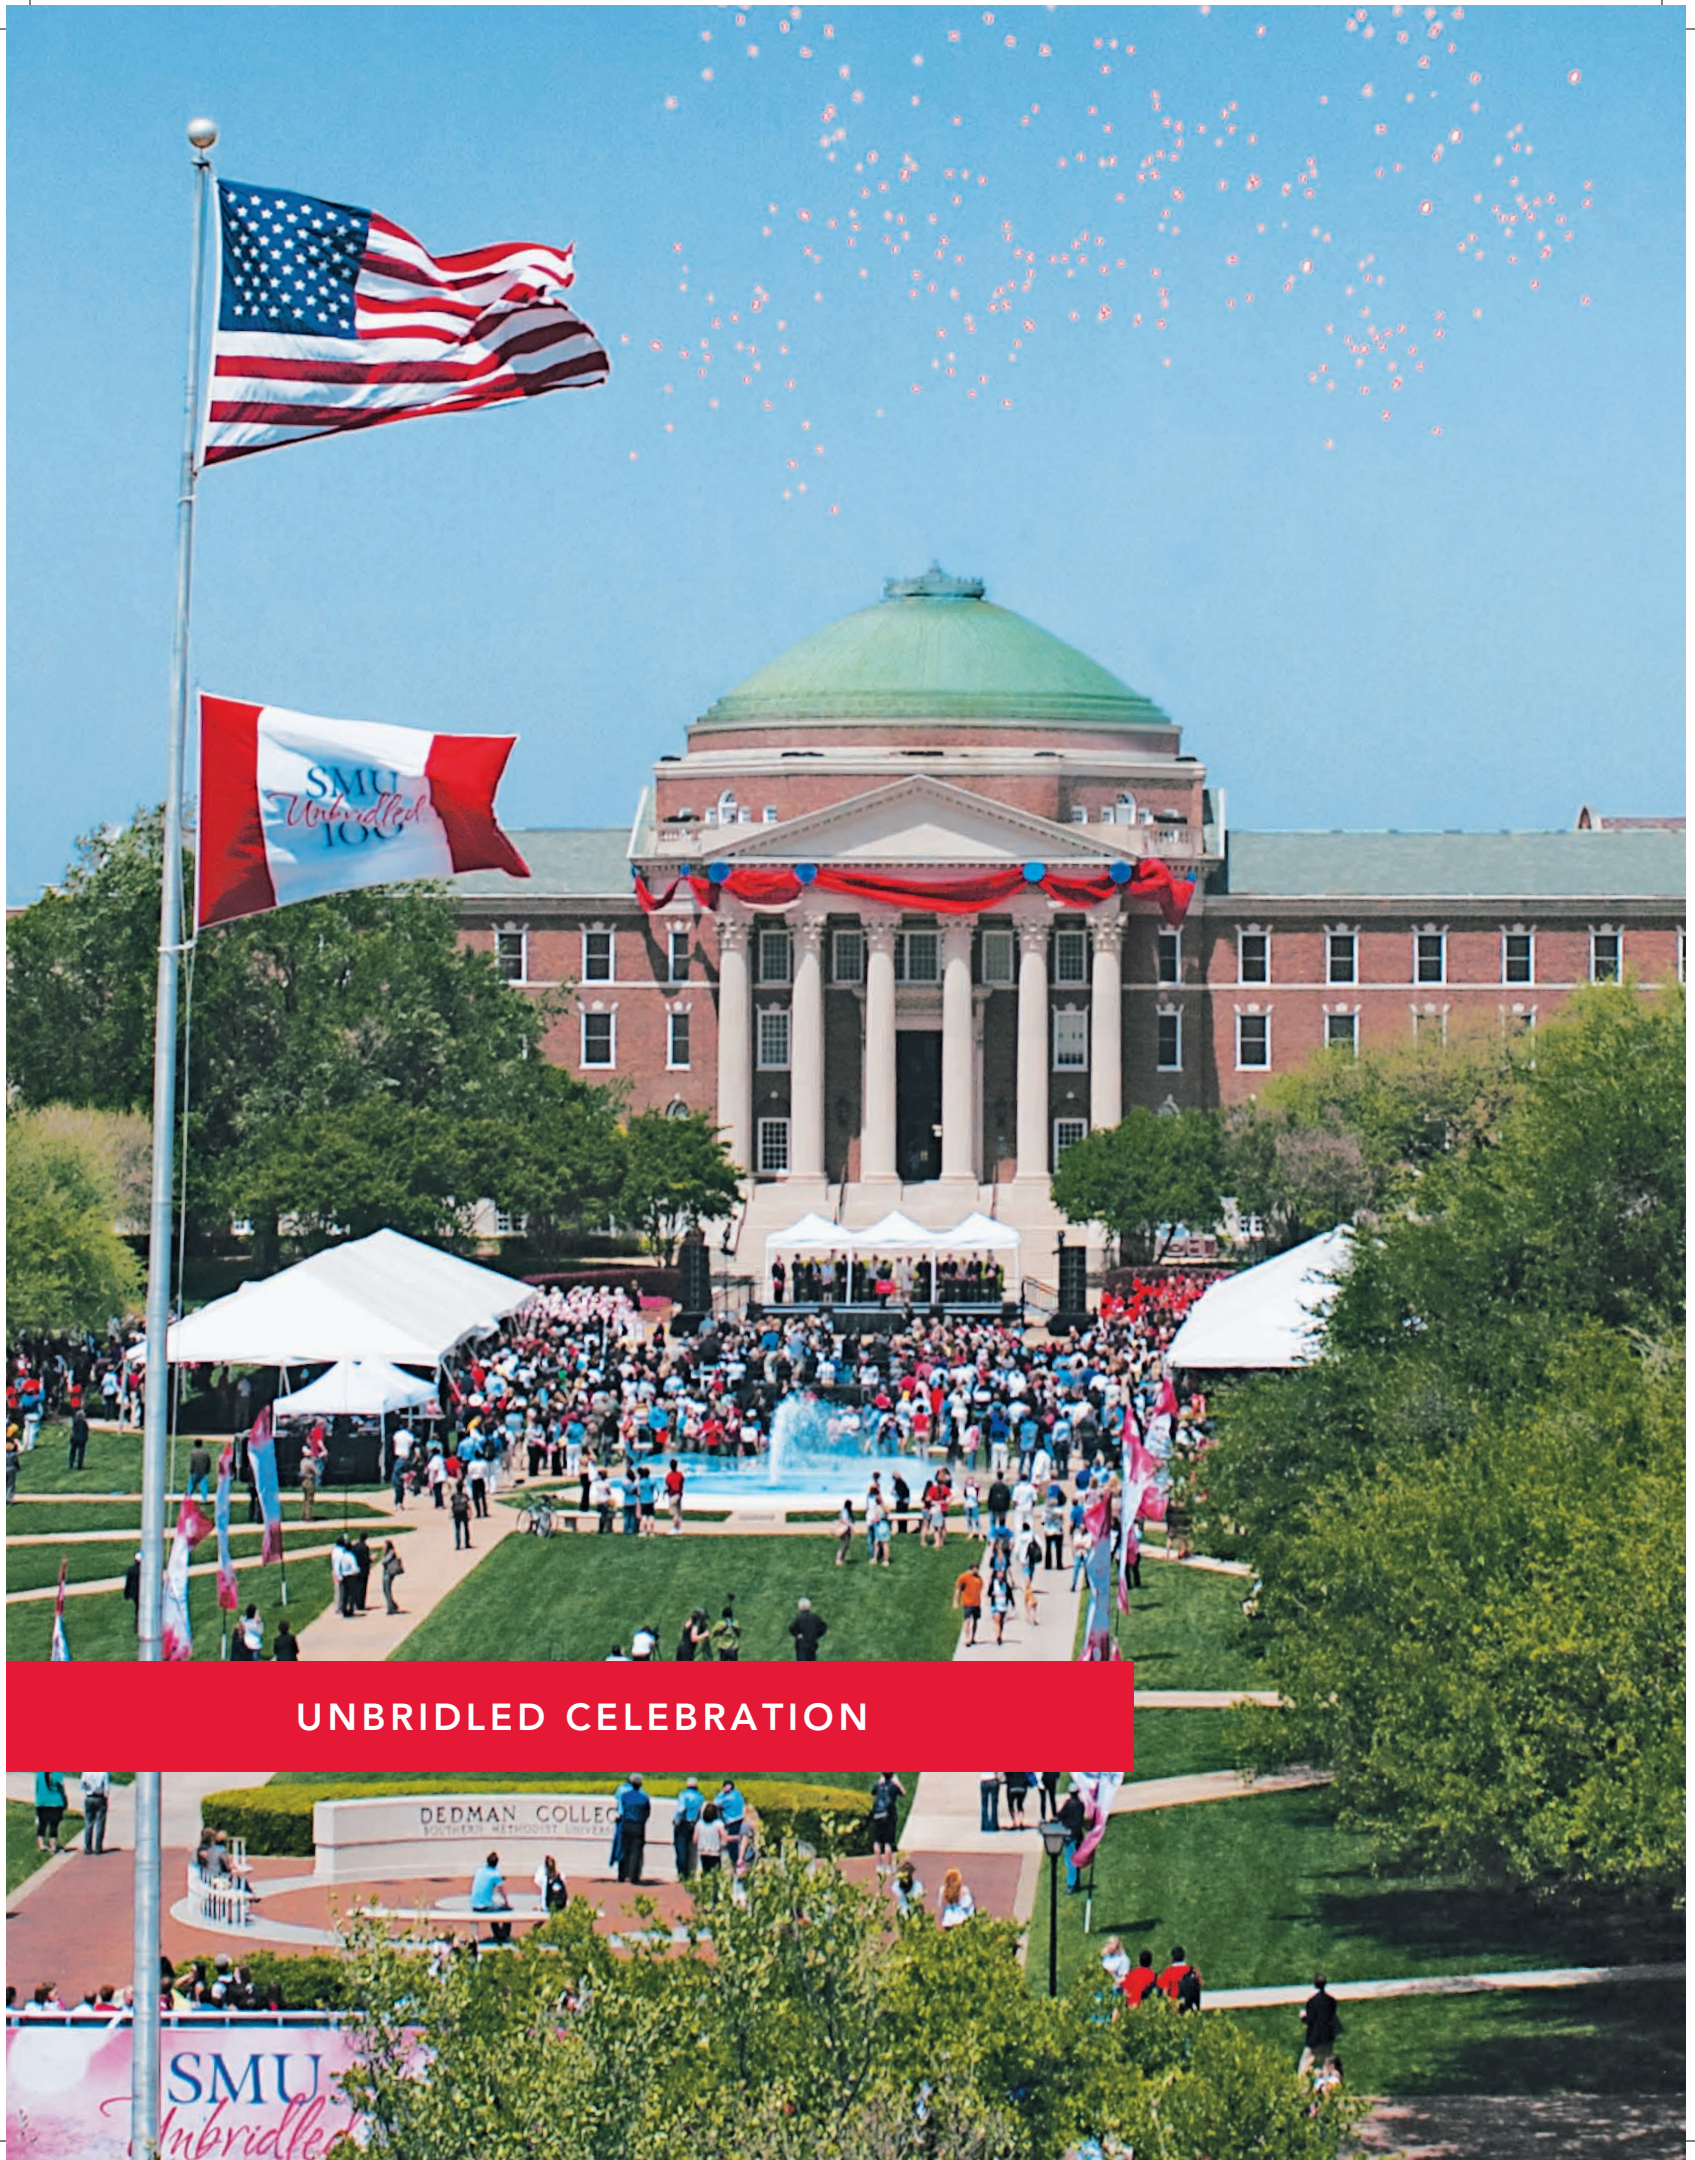

Planning for these activities occurred while finalizing details for Founders' Day on April 15, attracting more than 1,200 alumni and friends for a celebration on the main quad, as well as reunions, receptions and faculty-led "classes without quizzes." Most important of all, we celebrated upholding the vision of our founders, as evidenced by the growing quality of our students, expanding impact of faculty research and continuing prominence of our alumni. As you will see in this Annual Report, from achievement in academics to success in athletics, 2010-11 was indeed a very good year. We thank you for your role in making it all possible.

CENTENNIAL HALL

SMU announced plans for a new visitors' center for the centennial years. Centennial Hall, to be located on the lower level of the Hughes-Trigg Student Center, will feature an interactive exhibition highlighting SMU's illustrious past, present and future. The center, which also will include visitor amenities, meeting and event spaces, is slated to open in September 2011. To view highlights of the exhibition, contribute photos and memories, and sign the exhibition guest book, please visit smu.edu/100.

FOUNDERS' DAY

Founders' Day Weekend, April 15-17, officially launched The Second Century Celebration. Designated as the third Friday in April of each year, Founders' Day recognizes the filing of the University's charter on April 17, 1911.

Alumni from around the globe gathered on April 15 for the centennial commemoration at Dallas Hall, SMU's oldest and most iconic building. The University paid tribute to the citizens of Dallas and The United Methodist Church, who joined in partnership to establish SMU. The event culminated with a fireworks display and the raising of SMU's centennial flag that will fly on campus through 2015. The afternoon included classes for alumni, parents and friends taught by SMU faculty, followed by an annual briefing from President R. Gerald Turner.

On April 16, SMU sponsored University Park's Easter egg hunt at Goar Park. In addition, the dome of Dallas Hall was illuminated for several evenings following the event in honor of the Dallas residents who provided land and funds used to construct SMU's first building.

CAFÉ 100

In January SMU opened CAFÉ 100 at the Hughes-Trigg Student Center as part of The Second Century Celebration.

The grand opening was hosted by President Turner, Student Body President Jake Torres '11 and other representatives of SMU student government, and SMU mascot Peruna. Coffee was served by celebrity baristas, including Derek Hubbard '12, student representative to the Student Affairs Committee of the Board of Trustees (right), Lyle School of Engineering Dean Geoffrey Orsak, Women's Basketball Coach Rhonda Rompola, Mustang quarterback Kyle Padron '12 and many others.

PAVE THE WAY TO SMU'S FUTURE

To commemorate The Second Century Celebration, SMU is accepting gifts for engraved pavers to be placed on the planned Centennial Promenade, to be constructed on Ownby Drive in 2015. For more information, please visit smu.edu/paver.

SECOND CENTURY CELEBRATION PUBLICATIONS

To capture the spirit of The Second Century Celebration, SMU is publishing several books that highlight the SMU campus experience and honor the University's history.

SMU: Unbridled Vision showcases the majestic beauty of SMU in more than 160 pages of dramatic new photography. The first book of its kind in more than 25 years, SMU: Unbridled Vision features inspiring photography both of SMU's historic buildings as well as the extraordinary new additions to the campus.

In Honor of the Mustangs, by award-winning author and SMU emeritus professor of communications Darwin Payne, is a comprehensive history of SMU athletics. Created in conjunction with DeGolyer Library and the Lettermen's Association, the book also includes 600 historic photographs, selected and edited by Gerry York, curator of Heritage Hall. All varsity sports are covered, from the celebrated to the obscure, and contributions of a host of players and coaches are duly noted and placed in the context of the larger SMU story and American higher education.

SMU also has announced that Darwin Payne has been selected as the University's centennial historian. Payne, who has written extensively on the history of Dallas and the Southwest, has been commissioned to write the first comprehensive University history, to be published in 2015.

UNBRIDLED LEARNING

STUDENT QUALITY

Gifted and ambitious students are a key component of a top educational institution, where they excel in the classroom and bring energy and vitality to every aspect of campus life. In 2010-11 SMU continued to increase student quality, in part through ongoing investment in a range of merit-based scholarships that draw young scholars from across the United States and around the world. Through their accomplishments, awards and engagement in social issues, these students are enhancing the University's reputation as a nationally recognized center for teaching and learning.

SCHOLARSHIPS SUPPORT STUDENT QUALITY

In 2010-11 merit-based scholarships continued to support SMU's successful drive to increase student quality, a key goal of the University's Strategic Plan. Read more about merit-based scholarships on page 15. (Left) Hunt Leadership Scholar Roza Essaw '13.

SMU ENROLLS LARGEST EVER first-year CLASS

Reflecting SMU's growing appeal to students worldwide, in fall 2010 SMU welcomed the largest first-year class in its history, comprising some 1,479 students. That compares to a previous high of 1,466 in fall 1969. Texas students accounted for 46 percent of the Class of 2014, which also included 84 international students from 33 countries. Minority students represented 26.3 percent of the class – an all-time high and an increase from 24 percent in fall 2009 and 20 percent in fall 2008.

STUDENT BODY PROFILE

The student body totaled 10,938 enrolled for the fall term, including 6,192 undergraduates and 4,746 graduate and professional school students. Forty-eight percent of undergraduates came from Texas. Minority students made up 22.6 percent of the student population, an all-time high.

RISING SAT SCORES REFLECT STUDENTS' ACADEMIC QUALITY

First-year students entering in fall 2010 had the highest SAT scores in SMU's history. The average SAT score of 1243 represented a rise of 77 points in the last decade and an increase of nearly 100 points since fall 1999. The rise takes SMU closer to achieving an overall average SAT score of 1300. At the same time, the University has continued to attract a student body that features greater ethnic, geographic and socio-economic diversity.

RISING TEST SCORES

Average SAT Scores for Fall Entering Classes

MERIT-BASED SCHOLARSHIPS support RECRUITMENT of top STUDENTS

Growing numbers of merit-based scholarships offered by the University, as well as scholarships offered by schools that target students with specific interests, supported SMU's successful initiative to recruit top students in 2010-11. Forty-six first-year students received full-tuition President's Scholarships, boosting the total number of undergraduates in the prestigious program to 141. Hunt Leadership Scholarships were awarded to 31 incoming students, bringing that total to 97. The Cox BBA Scholars Program in the Edwin L. Cox School of Business included 104 first-year students, for a total of 342. Other schools' scholarship programs followed the Cox model, which provides financial support for highly qualified undergraduate students who express advance interest in the school's majors. Twenty-two students were named Meadows Scholars, bringing that total to 43. And nine students were named Dedman College Scholars, bringing the total in that new program to 12.

RECORD APPLICATIONS ATTRIBUTED TO ENHANCED REPUTATION AND OUTREACH

By January SMU had received a record number of applications to join the first-year class entering in fall 2011, topping the previous record by more than 40 percent. In addition to reflecting the University's growing national reputation, the application rate resulted from enhanced national outreach initiatives, including an emphasis on the development of relationships with high school counselors in key markets.

UNDERGRADUATES CONDUCT RESEARCH AT SMU AND AROUND THE WORLD

Undergraduates took part in a wide variety of research initiatives in 2010-11 as part of SMU's ongoing commitment to provide opportunities for experiential learning outside the classroom. Examples included:

- Physics majors from Dedman College participated in groundbreaking research at CERN in Switzerland, where SMU faculty members and scientists from around the world are seeking answers about the origins of the universe.
- The Undergraduate Research Assistant program connected more than 100 students to ongoing faculty research in a range of disciplines.
- Hamilton Undergraduate Research Scholars provided stipends for students to partner with faculty in Dedman College.
- Meadows Exploration Awards supported student research in Meadows School of the Arts.
- Richter Research Fellowships, awarded to students in the University Honors Program, supported independent research internationally and at SMU-in-Taos.
- Nine interdisciplinary student teams were awarded grants to investigate Dallas issues such as homelessness, immigration and health care through the provost's Big iDeas program.

STUDENTS UNCOVER DIVERSE HISTORY AT DALLAS CATHEDRAL

As part of the fall 2010 Dedman College Religious Studies course "Latino/Latina Religions," students investigated the history of St. Matthew's Episcopal Cathedral near downtown Dallas. They interviewed parishioners and church leaders, studied census records and spent hours organizing cathedral archives. Among their discoveries was the report card of former First Lady Claudia Alta "Lady Bird" Taylor Johnson, a graduate of St. Mary's College for Women, which had its home at the site until 1930.

ENGINEERING students pioneer SOLUTIONS IN INNOVATION GYM

Teams of students working in the Innovation Gymnasium at the Lyle School of Engineering pioneered a range of solutions to real-world challenges during the design and manufacturing facility's first year of operation. Students collaborated on sophisticated projects such as cell phone control for drone aircraft, swarm robots for defense against roadside bombs and facial feature tracking software. As part of the Immersion Design Experience program, students spent days and nights in the gymnasium during a 10-day period to complete assignments.

PROGRAMS FEATURING TRAVEL enhance LEARNING and support STUDENT RECRUITMENT

Special programs that feature travel to locales within and outside of the United States encourage community engagement and promote creative problem-solving and professional development. These programs represent a crucial component of the SMU educational experience and also are central to the University's ongoing initiatives to recruit top students. Here are a few examples from 2010-11:

- "Lessons Learned from the BP Oil Spill," offered in January through SMU-in-Plano's J-term program, took students (right) on a 10-day journey to New Orleans and the Gulf Coast to examine the communication strategies designed to inform the public, rally support, maintain pressure on government and business to provide aid and develop campaigns for generating donations following the spill. Students met with communication experts, business owners and scientists.

- As part of the course "Medieval Ideas," students traveled to Spain during spring break to study the multiple cultures of medieval Toledo, as revealed through the city's architecture, literature and monuments. The course included discussions at the Meadows Museum in conjunction with the exhibition "The Lost Manuscripts from the Sistine Chapel."

- Students visited the sites of human rights abuses and conducted research with the Embrey Human Rights Program in Dedman College in 2010-11. A group traveled to Japan in August to commemorate the 65th anniversary of the atomic bombing. In December students visited World War II concentration camps and memorials in Poland. In January a class studied migrant issues along the Arizona border. During spring break in March students toured Holocaust sites in Germany.
- SMU's annual Civil Rights Pilgrimage took students on an eight-day bus ride during spring break to visit the American South's civil rights landmarks (below). The group's stops included Little Rock Central High School in Arkansas; the Edmund Pettus Bridge in Selma, Alabama; and the Lorraine Motel in Memphis, now the site of the National Civil Rights Museum.

- As part of the 2010-11 Alternative Breaks program, students served community organizations around the country and beyond while learning about issues such as the environment, poverty, public health and education. During fall break in October students built homes in Little Rock and New Orleans. During spring break, students worked at sites including a wildlife refuge in Florida, a homeless shelter in Boston and a nonprofit organization for children in Ecuador.

- With the support of the Richter Foundation and the University Honors Program, students in the political science seminar "Law, Politics and the Supreme Court" (above) spent spring break in Washington, D.C., conducting research in the Library of Congress on the papers of former Supreme Court justices. They also had a private tour of the Supreme Court and visited the National Mall.
- Students in the graduate art history seminar "Modern Mexico in the Expanded Field" conducted a research trip to Los Angeles during spring break (below). They attended a Getty Center conference, toured the Los Angeles County Museum of Art's pre-Columbian collection and visited art galleries.

GUILDHALL STUDENTS earn major GAME DESIGN PRIZES

Guildhall continued to solidify its position as one of the nation's premier professional video game design programs as student teams brought home honors in two major competitions. An eight-student team and their two-dimensional arcade-style game, Inertia, were the big winners at the international 2011 Indie Game Challenge in February, earning the top prize in the Non-Professional category as well as the Gamer's Choice Award selected through online voting. Four students who created an educational game, Slime Garden, were among three teams selected as finalists at the National STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics) Video Game Challenge in March.

STUDENTS WIN prestigious NATIONAL AWARDS

SMU students who excel in their areas of study receive some of the world's most prestigious fellowships and awards, demonstrating the University's success in attracting and educating the leaders of tomorrow. In 2010-11 they included:

FULBRIGHT FELLOWSHIPS

Jordan Johansen '11 received a Fulbright Fellowship, allowing her to work as an English teaching assistant and study Greek at Cypriot University on the island of Cyprus. The Leila Peyton Hall Trust Endowed President's Scholar earned Bachelor's degrees in music from Meadows School of the Arts and anthropology and history, with a minor in human rights, from Dedman College.

Carla Mendiola, a graduate student in history in Dedman College, was awarded a Fulbright Fellowship that is helping fund the research and writing of her dissertation in Canada. She also is one of only six students to receive a Government of Canada Doctoral Student Research Award. Mendiola is investigating ethnicity along the Maine-Canada border from 1880 to 1930.

TRUMAN SCHOLARSHIP

Matthew Gayer '12 (right), who is majoring in public policy, economics and political science in Dedman College, was selected as a Truman Scholar. ## ENDOWMENT REPORT

SMU's endowment was aided by strong global financial markets during the fiscal year. Market value increased by $121.3 million, reaching $1.2 billion as of May 31. Generous donors contributed $14.9 million in new gifts, which signals the confidence and faith in SMU that supporters continue to show. Endowment distributions of $57.9 million provided significant support to University operations and accounted for 17 percent of the operating revenue budget. Through this spending support, multiple restricted and unrestricted purposes such as scholarships, educational programs, faculty support and libraries were funded.

The total return for the endowment for the one-year period ending May 31, 2011, was 13.2 percent. All asset classes contributed positively to performance. The endowment comprises a diversified portfolio of U.S. and international equity, fixed income, multiple diversifying strategies, private equity, venture capital, real estate and energy.

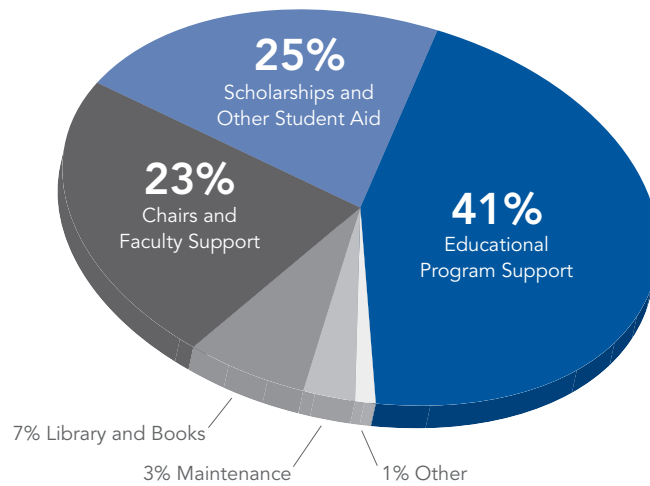

The financial markets have recovered significantly from the downturn experienced during the 2008-09 fiscal year. However, those markets have demonstrated volatility, and the environment continues to test and challenge investors. Slowing global growth, fiscal issues in the U.S. and Europe and geopolitical events are concerning. SMU remains focused on investment strategies and opportunities that enable the endowment to meet its long-term goals. This, in turn, provides support for SMU's programs and priorities in the future.

Over a two-year period (FY10 – FY11), Mustang Club revenue has grown by 53 percent, and operating gifts to Athletics have grown by 41 percent. Total giving to Athletics, operating and capital gifts, has shown steady growth as well and is up 23 percent over the same two-year period.
- 17 new scholarship endowments were established, enhancing recruitment and retention opportunities for our students.
- Four new faculty position endowments were established, bringing the number of substantially endowed faculty positions to 83, toward a campaign goal of 100.
