

SMU Alumni in the News Highlights from July 25-Aug. 1, 2016

SMU alumnus James McClure, his play IAGO to premier next month at the New Jersey Repertory Company, in Long Branch, N.J.

<http://www.broadwayworld.com/new-jersey/article/NJ-Rep-to-Present-IAGO-by-James-McClure-This-Fall-20160726#>

SMU alumna Shirley Demus Tarpley nicely profiled as a living legend

<http://northdallasgazette.com/2016/07/27/steps-living-legend-sister-shirley-demus-tarpley/>

SMU alums Claire Carson and Jake Nice, The Tribe theatre company director and playwright debuted a new play Hypochondria last week

<http://www.theaterjones.com/ntx/features/20160727161101/2016-07-27/Tribe-on-a-Quest>

SMU alumnus Dennis Wees performed last week in The Merry Widow for College Light Opera Company at the Highfield Theatre, in Hyannis, Mass.

<http://www.capecodtimes.com/entertainmentlife/20160727/sound-issues-hamper-otherwise-merry-widow>

SMU alumna Tien Tang, young Asian-Americans Black Lives Matter activism

<http://www.kplu.org/post/letter-young-asian-americans-their-families-about-black-lives-matter>

SMU alumnus Evan Koenig, slated to present at the 39th annual Economic Forum, in October, in Las Colinas, Texas http://www.cornerstoneleague.coop/npr_s_planet_money_host_added_as_economic_forum_registration_opens.html

Compiled by Cherri Gann '15
SMU News and Communications
Office of Public Affairs
P.O. Box 750174
Dallas, TX 75275-0174
214-768-7657