

Bruce R. Shaw
Managing Director
FCLTGlobal

Bruce Shaw is a Managing Director at FCLTGlobal, a not-for-profit focused on driving longer-term behaviors across the investment value chain. Mr. Shaw joined FCLTGlobal after completing a 2018 fellowship appointment at Harvard where he focused on the future of capitalism and free markets. Prior to Harvard, Bruce was President of Holly Energy Partners LP (NYSE: HEP), which provided refined product and crude oil transportation, tankage, and terminal services to the petroleum industry.

Mr. Shaw has also been Chief Financial Officer of Holly Corporation (NYSE: HOC) and HEP, was a consultant for McKinsey & Company, and currently serves on the boards of the Institute on Religion & Public Life, the International Arts Movement, and The Covenant School Foundation. Mr. Shaw earned a BS in Mechanical Engineering at Texas A&M University and an MBA from the Tuck School at Dartmouth College. Bruce is married to Bonnie, and they have two daughters.