

What types of financial resources are available?

Merit Scholarships from the Cox School of Business from $5,000 – $15,000 are offered directly through the Admissions process; the financial aid office does not have access to additional scholarship funding. All applicants are reviewed for scholarship at the time of admission. For detailed questions on scholarships, please contact the admissions team.

Veteran's Benefits (GI Bill) and Yellow Ribbon for all students are administered through SMU Registrar's office. Please review the procedures and contact information online: <https://www.smu.edu/EnrollmentServices/Veterans/VABenefits>

What steps should I take?

- Review what resources you have available – personal savings, SMU payment plan, Cox scholarships, employer reimbursement, outside scholarships, etc.
- Know your borrowing history, and the status of any prior federal student loan funding
Federal student loan history is available in the National Student Loan database (<https://studentaid.gov>).
 - Prior federal loans must be in good standing before new loans can be certified.
 - The Federal Direct Stafford Loan program has a lifetime maximum of $138,500 – if you have previously borrowed towards another degree(s) it is possible you may reach this cap during your MBA program. If you reach that maximum, future borrowing will require credit-approval.
- Calculate your financing needs for the first academic year, and submit application to the lender of your choice
 - Anticipated Cost (Charges + Books/Personal expenses)
– Available Resources (Scholarships, corporate assistance, etc)
= Financing Need
 - SMU can assist in distributing the funds across the current academic year as needed, but cannot certify funding for a future academic year (i.e. funding for Fall 2024).

How does the funding process work?

- Students apply directly with their lender of choice for a loan to cover one or more terms within an academic year
 - For Federal Student Loans, submit a 2023-2024 FAFSA online at www.fafsa.ed.gov using your 2021 tax information
 - For a Private or Alternative Loan, submit your application directly to the lender. Please use the 2023-2024 award year and 8/2023 – 8/2024 loan period to cover the full academic year
- Loans are certified by the university, and funding is sent directly to the university at the beginning of each term (no sooner than 10 days before the start of class)
- Funds will be applied to existing charges first; if you borrow towards books/expenses, that remaining amount will be processed as a refund to you by the SMU Bursar's office – this can take an additional 7-10 business days.

During terms where you enroll at least part-time (4.5 hours) in credit bearing courses, you can apply for loan funding up to a maximum called the COA (Cost of Attendance) to cover your full tuition, as well as personal expenses such as books, software and travel if needed.

How do I make a payment?

The SMU Bursar's office offers monthly payment plans and a variety of methods to pay online or in person. Tuition charges are due at the start of each semester – these due dates are included on your invoice, and published online. Please contact the SMU Bursar for assistance with:

- Monthly Payment Plans (offered per Semester)
- Invoicing for Corporate Reimbursement
- Third-party billing or Letters of Credit
- 529 payments and Americorp
