

Robert (Bobby) Schwerin
Vice President of Tax

Robert (Bobby) Schwerin is vice president of tax for 7-Eleven Inc. He is responsible for leading the company's global tax planning and compliance functions.

Prior to joining 7-Eleven, Bobby worked as an officer for Safety-Kleen Systems, Inc. for over 10 years. He joined as director of tax in 2002, was promoted to vice president after 9 months, and added responsibility for mergers and acquisitions for his final 5 years culminating in the successful sale of the company.

Bobby earned a master's degree in tax and a bachelor's degree in accounting from the University of North Texas. He later completed a 2 year executive finance program at Southern Methodist University. Early in his career, he held tax staff and managerial positions with Arthur Andersen and PepsiCo.

Bobby is a certified public accountant, maintains several professional memberships including Tax Executives Institute (TEI), and serves on the tax committee for the Retail Industry Leaders Association (RILA). Bobby resides in Frisco with his wife, Tatum, and their two children. In his spare time, he enjoys golf and attending sporting events.