WELCOME TO SMU INTERSESSIONS

We are pleased you are considering attending SMU this May and Summer. Our commitment is to offer student-focused, innovative courses that enrich your knowledge, experience, and abilities, and help you fulfill academic career goals.

All Intersessions courses are open to visiting students. Unleash your full potential by enrolling in SMU Intersessions – beginning Wednesday, April 18!

With SMU Intersessions, you can:
• Accelerate your career plan
• Advance your academic standing/GPA
• Build your credentials or prepare for graduate or professional school
• Expand your horizons with a course outside your current academic/degree plan

May, June, and July intersessions on SMU’s Dallas campus provide a chance to complete your needed coursework in a focused small-class setting. With these concentrated programs of study, you can enroll in one or several courses at a time. All Intersessions courses are taught by SMU’s exceptional professors.

MayTerm
Complete one course in just 11 class days (May 17 to June 1) on SMU’s Dallas Campus. Choose from 70 courses.

June – July
Each session is 5 weeks in length (June 4 to July 3, and July 5 to August 3). You can take up to two courses in each session. Choose from 200 courses.

Cost of attendance
We are sensitive to the financial challenges of university students. To help motivated students attain their goals, intersession courses are offered at a lower tuition rate than fall and spring semesters. For 2018, SMU tuition for May, June, and July is $1,397 per credit hour. Enrolling in intersessions does not require payment of student fees (though specific courses may assess equipment or travel fees and living on campus is an additional cost).

Courses
Find ALL courses at www.smu.edu/summer2018.

The following pages highlight frequently asked for courses, but many more are available in the Liberal Arts, Business, Engineering, Fitness & Sports Management, and the Arts.
Course Highlights: Pre-Health

SMU serves students who are interested in pursuing dentistry, medicine, optometry, pharmacy, physical therapy, physician assistant, or veterinary medicine. Many of the courses for students preparing for graduate work and careers in those fields are offered in May, June, and July. Requirements for pre-health tracks of study vary, so students should meet with their academic advisor to ensure they are meeting their specific degree plan and pre-health requirements. Students may enroll in one course in MayTerm, and up to two courses in each June and July session.

Consider personal identity and gender differences in new ways and build a foundation for advocating social justice and gender equity. Women’s and Gender Studies explores the intersections of gender, sexuality, race, class, nationality, religion, and more. Courses build critical thinking and leadership skills essential to professional development, while also helping you understand and appreciate the rich diversity of our society.

Students may enroll in one course in MayTerm, and up to two courses in each June and July session.

Course Highlights: Online Courses

Take advantage of the flexibility and convenience of studying remotely. SMU is offering several online courses well-suited for students who need to fit in class around work, travel, or internship schedules. Online courses are 5 weeks in length and taught by SMU's exceptional faculty, just like classroom-based summer courses. While much of the work is self-paced, students should expect regular deadlines and scheduled interaction with classmates and the professor via discussion boards, video-conferencing, or other media. Once enrolled, students will receive instructions via email on how to connect to course resources and technology, so checking email before and during online courses is essential. All students participating in online courses are required to have reliable internet access, and a device with webcam, audio, microphone, and recording functionality.

Students may enroll in one course in MayTerm, and up to three courses in each June and July session.

Enrollment Information for Visiting Students

Students admitted as visiting undergraduate students and enroll in:
- One MayTerm course (typically 3 credit hours)
- Up to 7 credit hours in June
- Up to 7 credit hours in July

Enrollment opens April 18

THE PROCESS

1. If you want to transfer credit, we strongly recommend that you meet with your academic advisor, and seek prior approval of course equivalency from your home institution. Course descriptions and some syllabi can be found on our website. Click on the Course Title in our course list, found at www.smu.edu/summer2018. If you need additional information, please contact the Intersessions Office (intersessions@smu.edu; 214-768-1009).

2. Apply to SMU online at www.smu.edu/visitingstudent. A complete application includes submission of the online form, a current official transcript, and an application fee. For most students in good academic standing, acceptance can be finalized in a few business days once all application materials arrive.

3. Upon acceptance you will receive an SMU student ID number and access to online systems used to enroll, use library resources, pay for parking, etc. Prior to enrollment, you must clear any account holds in my.SMU.edu (including the SMU Rights and Responsibilities agreement).

4. With your new SMU credentials, log into my.SMU.edu as soon as possible to secure a seat in your preferred courses. If your first choice of classes is full, you may enroll in an alternate course, or join the “waitlist” for your first choice. Should you wish to swap one of your courses, you may do so through my.SMU.edu while seats (or a position on the waitlist) are still available. Some advanced level courses may require extra permissions; for assistance enrolling, contact visitingstudent@smu.edu.

5. Note that the Bursar’s Office sets a payment due date for each term (June and July sessions have the same due date, typically in late May). After this date a late fee is assessed on all delinquent payments. For students enrolling after the payment due date, tuition is due within 72 hours to avoid a late fee. Due dates are subject to change. See www.smu.edu/EnrollmentServices/Bursar/DueDates.

Find a complete list of available courses at www.smu.edu/summer2018.

By enrolling in SMU Intersession, students agree to abide by all SMU Intersessions policies.

Additional information and application forms may be accessed at: smu.edu/VisitingStudent. For questions or individual assistance, please contact:

Tuition

SMU offers a reduced tuition rate of $1,397 per credit hour. The total cost for one 3-hour course is $4,191. Some courses carry additional fees (e.g., lab/studio fees, travel fees for off-campus courses/activities).

The Bursar’s Office sets a payment due date for each term (June and July sessions have the same due date, typically in late May). After this date a late fee is assessed on all delinquent payments. See www.smu.edu/EnrollmentServices/Bursar/DueDates. Due dates are subject to change.

Around Campus

DINING

SMU offers a range of on-campus dining options, including meals within the Dining Commons, at retail locations, and within The Market, a convenience store on the first floor of Hughes Trigg Student Center. Students may subscribe to meal plans (for the Dining Commons), purchase Flex Dollars on their student account, or pay with cash, credit, or debit.

During MayTerm, dining on campus is available principally in retail locations within the Hughes Trigg Student Center and at the Starbucks in Fondren Library. In June and July, Dining Commons as well as retail options are available. The Market offers both pre-packaged and fresh food and beverages throughout the summer. For hours, locations, rates, and menus, see www.smu.campusdish.com.

Can’t find what you want on campus? Additional retail options are conveniently located within walking distance of campus on Mockingbird Lane, Hillcrest Avenue, and at Snider Plaza at the northwest boundary of campus. Snider Plaza also has a Tom Thumb full grocery store.

RECREATION

SMU’s Dedman Center for Lifetime Sports (DCLS) offers recreational pools, a fitness center, climbing wall, basketball and volleyball courts, and more. DCLS remains open May through July with reduced hours. See www.smu.edu/recsports for more information.
PARKING & TRANSPORTATION

Get to and around campus using public transportation or your own vehicle.

SMU Express and Museum Express, connecting the SMU campus to nearby stores, restaurants, and the local DART rail station, run through May, June, and July terms on a reduced schedule both weekdays and weekends. For schedules and routes, see www.dart.org/riding/mustangexpress.asp. Please note that the SMU “non-session” service schedule applies to May and June-July sessions.

To purchase a parking pass, students MUST do so online at www.smu.edu/parkingservices. Students MUST purchase or opt-out of an SMU parking permit; these options will be available in a students’ online parking account within 48 hours of enrolling for May, June, or July. All permit orders are mailed out following online purchase, but a temporary pass can be printed to display while it is in transit. Parking permit fees will be charged to your SMU student account.

For additional information on parking and transportation, visit www.smu.edu/parkingID.

SMU LIBRARIES

Six libraries are available on campus, but most students utilize the main Fondren Library Complex, where a Starbucks and the Information Technology Help Desk are also conveniently located. Stop into one of the libraries for research help or a place to study. For hours and more information, see www.smu.edu/CUL.

IT HELP DESK

The Office of Information Technology offers technical support through the IT Help Desk. Students can access these services in person at the Help Desk located in Fondren Library, by phone, email, or by submitting an electronic request. For hours and more information, see www.smu.edu/oit/help. 214-768-HELP (4357) or help@smu.edu

ACADEMIC ASSISTANCE

Stay on top of your coursework by utilizing SMUs free tutoring services, covering a range of material from math and sciences to assistance with writing. Tutoring is available at the Altschuler Learning Enhancement Center (A-LEC) from 6-9 pm Sunday-Thursday in June and July sessions. The A-LEC is located at the Loyd All Sports Center next of Ford Stadium. See www.smu.edu/alec for more information.

DISABILITY ACCOMMODATIONS

Disability Accommodations & Success Strategies (DASS) offers support for students with learning, physical, psychiatric, and other forms of disabilities. Personnel is available to help students obtain reasonable accommodations with faculty and staff. DASS offices are located within the A-LEC. See www.smu.edu/Provost/ALEC/DASS for more information.

HEALTH CENTER

The Dr. Bob Smith Health Center provides medical appointments, nurse consultations, counseling services, and health education for all enrolled students for a small fee ($25.00 per session). Students only pay the fee if they use the health center and the $25.00 covers all visits for the session attended (May, June, or July). Additional charges for services such as labs may apply and will be out of network for those not enrolled on the student health insurance plan offered by SMU. The pharmacy is open all summer long and takes most insurance plans. See www.smu.edu/healthcenter for more information.
