W.W. Caruth, Jr. Child Advocacy Clinic: Spring 2022

<https://www.smu.edu/Law/Clinics/Caruth>

Our Clients

We represent abused and neglected children in child welfare cases in Dallas County in a dual role of attorney/guardian ad litem or as their attorney. We also represent young adults who have aged out of foster care in certain selected legal matters.

Considerations

- ➔ Mandatory orientation Tuesday, Jan. 4 (3-5 pm) & Wednesday, Jan. 5 (9a.m.-5 p.m.)
- ➔ You should expect to spend an average of 15 hours each week on casework and class work. The workload fluctuates with case events.
- ➔ You will likely handle 2-3 cases (depending on case activity), sometimes with a partner, sometimes on your own (with Director supervision).
- ➔ You will handle at least one, probably two, and possibly more court hearings.
- ➔ You will need to visit your child clients at least once a month and will otherwise need to conduct “fieldwork” investigation activities around the Dallas area (and occasionally beyond).

Legal Experience

You will represent your clients first chair at all hearings, mediations, and trial, with the close supervision of the Director. You will interview child clients (or youth clients) and their family members, investigate the facts of the case, protect the interests of the children while in foster care, and advocate for the child’s needs, informally and through motion practice.

Class Experience

Class occurs twice a week and explores child welfare law, oral and written advocacy, interviewing and counseling, trial preparation, and trial advocacy skills.

Guest speakers provide an interdisciplinary perspective on the law.

Interaction is emphasized. Class often consist of “rounds” where Clinic cases are discussed among the class as a law firm with a Clinic student leading the discussion. Classes also include simulated or “mock” court and investigative situations - but based on real Clinic cases to help you prepare to represent your clients.

Supervision and Mentoring happens through one-on-one pre-scheduled weekly meetings with the Director.

Community Interaction

Among other things, you will collaborate on a podcast, conceived of and developed by Clinic students, where youth who aged out of the child welfare system are given a voice.

ENROLL IN THE CHILD ADVOCACY CLINIC IF YOU WANT TO DEVELOP SKILLS APPLICABLE TO LEGAL PRACTICE, GAIN VALUABLE HANDS-ON EXPERIENCE, AND MAKE A DIFFERENCE IN THE LIFE OF A CHILD

CIVIL/CONSUMER CLINIC

5 CREDITS SPRING 2022

PRACTICE LAW ON BEHALF OF REAL CLIENTS

Students in the Civil Clinic represent clients with real problems in litigation and negotiation as Associate Members of the State Bar of Texas under the supervision of clinic faculty. In recent semesters, students have represented clients in landlord-tenant disputes, real estate litigation, and matters involving credit and debt. In earlier semesters, clinic students have secured U-Visas for immigrant clients, tracked down stolen cars and the “ring” engaged in scam sales, assisted in employment matters, helped a client enforce an elder healthcare employment contract, and stepped in to enforce a roofing contract.

In addition to the direct representation, students provide, they also engage in outreach and education in the community. In past semesters, students have also engaged in legislative advocacy on access-to-justice and consumer-related issues. Clinic students have staffed a monthly courthouse-based clinic for self-represented litigants in Dallas County and routinely assisted tenants in coordination with the Housing Crisis Center. In SPRING 2022, we anticipate that students will staff the SMU COVID Helpline providing legal assistance to callers impacted by the pandemic.

While all student work is supervised by a clinic faculty member, the student is first chair. Students work and learn in all aspects of the lawyering process. They conduct client and witness interviews, fact investigation, legal research, and problem solving. They are responsible for advising and counseling their clients regarding available options, conducting negotiations and mediations, and if needed, engaging in litigation. Clinic students handle all aspects of litigation including case planning, drafting pleadings and discovery, conducting negotiations and mediations, taking and defending depositions, and serving as lead counsel in the courtroom where they handle motion practice and hearings, trials and appeals.

CLINIC FACULTY

Students work individually with Clinic faculty members. Associate Dean for Clinics, Professor Mary Spector is the Director of the Civil/Consumer Clinic and a Supervising Attorney. Clinical Professor Eliot Shavin is the Assistant Director and Supervising Attorney.

Clinic faculty select cases that raise interesting legal and factual issues and that expose students to disputes and contested legal issues. Faculty try to keep caseloads small to allow students to fully explore the facts and legal issues of each case and to ensure that students provide excellent legal representation to their clients.

TIME COMMITMENT

In the SPRING 2022 semester, Clinic students should expect to spend a minimum of 15 hours each week on clinic-related work including preparing for and attending the clinic lawyering seminar, interviewing potential new clients, and handling their assigned casework. There is a mandatory classroom component: SPRING 2022: Classes will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. to 10:45 a.m.

Students also participate in weekly supervisory conferences where they work with faculty to develop their lawyering skills, discuss ethical issues, and review other dimensions of client representation including the dynamics of client decision making. In scheduling other courses, students should take into account the flexibility that is needed to represent clinic clients and should not take a larger than normal course load.

SMU DEDMAN School of Law
Spring & Summer 2022
Criminal Clinic (6 Credits)

The Criminal Clinic provides law students who will practice as Associate Members of the State Bar of Texas a combination of academic and experiential learning through the practice of criminal defense law in the Dallas County Criminal Courts. In exchange, supervising attorneys certify to the Court that we will properly train and supervise you.

Students on the criminal clinic will represent low-income clients charged with misdemeanor offenses in the Dallas County Criminal Courts, some of the most common charges include: Assault, Criminal Mischief, Criminal Trespass, DWI, Possession of Marijuana, Prostitution, Theft, and Unlawfully Carrying a Weapon. YOU will engage in investigation, interviewing, discovery, plea negotiations, case planning, motion practice and trial. With the assistance of the supervising attorneys, you will be handling real cases and represent real clients. You will act as trial counsel- arguing everything from a motion to suppress evidence with live police witnesses to a jury trial!

SMU's Criminal Clinic is in its 44th year. The supervising attorneys have been practicing criminal defense law for over a combined 86 years. Criminal Clinic Associate Director Mike McCollum has been with the Clinic for more than 43 years, and Adjunct Clinical Professor Debbie Sanchez is a former prosecutor with the Dallas District Attorney's Office and has been in private practice for over 24 years. The bulk of her practice involves representing individuals charged with felony offenses.

Your responsibility to the Clinic and your clients requires a substantial commitment on your part. Your time commitment to the Clinic is a minimum of 20 hours per week (total of at least 255 hours for the semester). This includes time spent at the courthouse, office hours (you must log 3 hours per week during business hours in the criminal clinic library) and class time. Mandatory classes are on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 3:30 p.m. to 4:45 p.m. In scheduling your other courses, you should take into account the flexibility you need to represent clients. It is highly recommended that you do not register for morning classes because you will be at the courthouse almost every day and court takes up most of the morning – do not schedule 9 or 10 o'clock classes in order to avoid conflicts.

The clinic is a one semester, graded course. We will enroll 12 students for the Spring semester and 4 students for the Summer for 6 credits each. Due to the nature of trial preparation, the time commitment to this Clinic has generally exceeded the minimum 20-hour requirement. Additionally, clinic assignments will include short reflective/observation papers, a trial notebook and meeting to review case file management.

Students applying for the summer should be aware that they must apply at the same time that the spring clinic students apply. Summer clinic students are required to take the class component of the clinic during the spring on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3:30-4:45 PM and are required to observe 3 court settings at The Frank Crowley courthouse and write 3 short reflective/observation papers. Further, summer students will be enrolled in the clinic for the entire summer. This is not a 6-week or 12-week course; participating in the clinic during the summer should be considered in lieu of other internships and work. Summer clinic students will not receive all 6 credit hours in one semester, but students will be able to tell the registrar how they would like to split their hours (as long as at least one credit hour is taken in the spring and at least one is taken in the summer).

To be eligible for the Criminal Clinic, you must be a student in good academic standing, you must have completed at least one-third (29 hours) of the credits required for graduation.

Professional Responsibility is a required co-requisite class, meaning you must have either already taken Professional Responsibility or be scheduled to take Professional Responsibility at the same time you would be in the Criminal Clinic. Recommended classes are Evidence and Texas Criminal Procedure.

Student selection for the Criminal Clinic is part of the general clinic pre-registration process.

MANDATORY TWO-DAY ORIENTATION: January 4th and 5th all day.

If you MUST DROP Criminal Clinic, you MUST RECEIVE PERMISSION by notifying Administrative Assistant Gloria Zapata at gzapata@smu.edu, by 5 p.m. on Monday, December 6, 2021, who will then contact Associate Director Mike McCollum and Associate Director Debbie Sanchez.

Prior to joining SMU, he worked on cases with First Amendment clinics at Yale Law School and at Cornell Law School.

Clinic Fellow, Michael Shapiro, is a newspaper reporter turned media lawyer. He began his legal career at Reporters Committee for Freedom of the Press, a nonprofit that litigates on behalf of journalists and press groups. Before coming to SMU, he worked as an in-house lawyer at NBCUniversal.

The Clinic expects to represent individuals and media organizations, both non-profit and for-profit, in a range of matters that could include:
