Session 2: July 18-August 5

Instructor Reflection/Class Encouragement

I consider it a great privilege and opportunity to work with Local Pastors in the COSS. As I think forward to the future of the UMC, our system will be leaning more and more on the ministry of Local Pastors. I am honored to have this opportunity to interact with you. This class is manageable, and my narrative and dialogical teaching approach will make the class lively and engaging. It is not an “easy” class, however if you complete your pre-class assignments and turn them in on time, you’ve gone a very long way toward ensuring success in the class.

Course Description

I look forward to working with each of you as you learn, develop, and grow your skills as an administrative "and" spiritual leader in the areas of Polity and Administration in the United Methodist Church. Through a variety of discussions, interactions, and activities we will experience together, you will be equipped and empowered to effectively lead a local church and effectively work with that with local church's laity and lay leadership. You will also be given insights on how to leverage district, conference, and general church leadership and resources in a way that can help you grow as a church administrator. In our time together, I expect my students to participate and be actively engaged in all facets of our class: face to face discussions, video conferences, and other ways we will interact along the way. I am excited to get to meet and work with each of you.

Learning Goals

By the end of this course, candidates will be able to:

- Articulate a biblical and theological understanding of polity.
- Understand and explain the polity of the United Methodist church, including conferencing, oversight, and discipline.
- Articulate the nature of Stewardship biblically and theologically.
- Identify techniques and develop skills as effective administrators of local churches, including financial management.
- Better understand United Methodist polity and organization.
- Better understand the current tension between the polity and organization of the general and local church and its impact on the growth and mission of the church to “make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.”
- To relate local church order, leadership and administration to United Methodist polity.

Pre-Class Assignments

1. Pre-class Assignment #1

a. Complete a 2 page double spaced 12pt. written reflection paper from the book The Method of Our Mission by Lacey Warner with a focus on local pastors. Discuss the three categories of local pastors and their relationship to the local church and to the Annual Conference. What concerns or challenges have you experienced as a local pastor in regards to these relationships and what recommendations would you make to address those concerns?

b. The pre-class assignment is worth 25 points in your Pre-Assignment grade. Please make sure to review the rubric to see how your pre-class work will be evaluated.

Grading Rubrics

Timeliness: Submitted work on time	15.0 pts
Writing Quality: Written work demonstrates a certain quality of writing skills	5.0 pts
Comprehension: Work demonstrates a certain level of comprehension of material	5.0 pts

2. Pre-class Assignment #2

a. Complete a 2 page double spaced 12 pt. written reflection paper from the book Back to Zero: The Search to Rediscover the Methodist Movement by Gil Rendle. In this book the statement is made "...The increasing complexity of the denominational bureaucracies naturally shifted their attention from external mission to internal institutional structure, resources, and processes." Institutional survival can no longer serve as a purpose." What are your thoughts regarding this statement and what difference does it make administratively in your ministry setting?

4. Pre-class Assignment #4

The question was raised at the close of the Lay Leadership Committee meeting about the election in the Western Jurisdiction of the United Methodist Church of an openly gay Bishop. The conversation, for obvious reasons, drifted towards the churches stance on same sex marriages and the ordination of gay and lesbian persons in the United Methodist Church. Persons on both sides of the issue wanted to know how their voice could be heard on this issue. I saw this as an opportunity to give them a brief lesson on the polity of the United Methodist Church. If you were responding to their question, what would a brief lesson on the polity of the UMC look like? Where would they start with their concerns and what is the last step in the process? Who or what makes the final decision? What difference does the General and Jurisdictional delegation elected at Annual Conference make in this process? Please complete a 2 page double spaced 12pt. written response to this case study.
