

WELCOME BACK MUSTANGS!

AccessAbility

DASS Newsletter
Disability Accommodations and Success Strategies

January 2024
Vol 16 Issue 6

MEET KELSEY BAUER

My name is Kelsey Bauer, and I am honored to serve as DASS's new Graduate Assistant for the 2023-2024 academic year. I'll mainly be providing academic coaching alongside David Tylicki, the DASS Senior Learning Specialist, and I'll also be working on a few projects for the DASS team.

Having graduated from SMU in the Spring of 2021 with a BA in Psychology and a minor in Educational Studies, I am now pursuing a Master of Science in Counseling, specializing in child and adolescent counseling.

Through one-on-one collaboration, we will establish goals and craft efficient strategies to successfully achieve them. My door is always open; I'm here as a resource to support your academic success.

I'm excited for the opportunity to work with you this Spring, and I'm looking forward to connecting with each of you at the DASS office!

ACADEMIC COACHING

DASS offers free, one-on-one academic coaching for undergraduate students with ADHD, LD, and ASD.

During coaching meetings with a DASS staff you will build valuable skills in time management, organization, and study methods.

If you are interested in scheduling a coaching appointment, email DASS's Senior Learning Specialist,

David Tylicki
dtylicki@smu.edu

REMINDER

Submit your Spring
Semester Request
NOW

Looking to Connect?

Students for New Learning, or SNL for short, is an SMU-chartered student organization just for neurodivergent students, including students with ADHD, learning differences, and ASD. This informal group meets monthly to provide support to each other, learn tips and strategies, plan fun events, and work as an educating agent on campus on the topic of learning differences.

Date of next meeting will be posted soon!

The DASS Team ~ 214-768-1470

dass@smu.edu

DASS Link Student Log-In: <https://shibboleth-smu-accommodate.symphlicity.com/sso/>