Company & Project Overview

Create a mobile social networking application for iOS and Android where users can upload their photos, videos, files, and text. Users can also search for people based on different parameters like location, skills, etc. and connect and message with them. Everyone's profile can be highly customizable with personal portfolios, skills, social media links, and active connections.

Cuspr is a social networking platform aimed at providing professional creatives with the power to manage their own careers where they can establish connections with other users, showcase their creative works off to the world, and grow their professional network.
