

Southern Methodist University
Stop Campus Hazing Act Transparency Report

Hazing is a violation of Federal and Texas law and the Southern Methodist University Student Code of Conduct. Below is a notification sent twice yearly from the Office of the Dean of Students regarding hazing. Individuals or organizations engaging in hazing could be subject to fines and charged with a criminal offense, as well as face disciplinary action from the University.

Hazing Defined

Federal-Stop Campus Hazing Act

The Stop Campus Hazing Act was signed into law on December 23, 2024 and amends the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, 20.U.S.C §1092(f). The Stop Campus Hazing Act defines hazing as: any intentional, knowing, or reckless act committed by a person (whether individually or in concert with others) against another person or persons, regardless of the willingness of such person(s) to participate, that is

1. committed in the course of an initiation into, an affiliation with, or the maintenance of membership in a student organization, and,
2. causes or creates a risk, above the reasonable risk encountered in the course of participation in the IHE or the organization (such as the physical preparation necessary for participation in an athletics team) of physical or psychological injury, including:
 - Whipping, beating, striking, electronic shocking, placing of a harmful substance on someone's body, or similar activity, and/or:
 - Causing, coercing, or otherwise inducing any of the following:
 - Sleep deprivation, exposure to the elements, confinement in a small space, extreme calisthenics, or other similar activity;
 - Another person to consume food, liquid, alcohol, drugs, or other substances
 - Another person to perform sexual acts;
 - Any activity that places another person in reasonable fear of bodily harm through the use of threatening words or conduct;
 - Any activity committed against another person that includes a criminal violation of local, state, tribal, or federal law; or,
 - Any activity that induces, causes, or requires another person to perform a duty or task that involves a criminal violation of local, state, tribal, or federal law

State of Texas

The Texas anti-hazing statute is found in the Texas Education Code, Chapter 37, Subchapter F at §37.151 and defines hazing as: any intentional, knowing or reckless act, occurring on or off the campus of an educational institution, by one person alone or acting with others, directed against a student, for the purpose of pledging, being initiated into, affiliating with, holding office in, or maintaining membership in an organization if the act is:

- Any type of physical brutality, such as whipping, beating, striking, branding, electric shocking, placing of a harmful substance on the body or similar activity;

- Involves sleep deprivation, exposure to the elements, confinement in a small space, calisthenics, or other similar activity that subjects the student to an unreasonable risk of harm or that adversely affects the mental or physical health or safety of the student;
- Involves consumption of food, liquid, alcoholic beverage, liquor, drug or other substance, other than as described by Paragraph (E), that subjects the student to an unreasonable risk of harm or which adversely affects the mental or physical health of the student;
- Is any activity that induces, causes, or requires the student to perform a duty or task that involves a violation of the Penal code; or involves coercing, as defined by Section 1.07, Penal Code, the student to consume an alcoholic beverage, liquor, or drug in an amount that would lead a reasonable person to believe that the student is intoxicated, as defined by Section 49.01, Penal Code.

*The fact that a person consented or acquiesced to participation in a hazing activity is not a defense to prosecution for hazing under the law or SMU policy.

University Policy

This law does not affect or in any way limit the right of the university to enforce its own rules against hazing. Hazing is a violation of Section IV.B.4. of the Southern Methodist University Student Code of Conduct and is subject to potential proceedings in the Conduct Review Process.

Reporting Hazing

According to the law, a person can commit hazing by not only engaging in the activity, but also soliciting, encouraging, directing, aiding or attempting to aid in hazing; and by intentionally, knowingly, or recklessly allowing hazing to occur. Witnessing hazing or having first-hand knowledge that a hazing incident is planned or has occurred can also be considered hazing, as defined by law.

In an effort to encourage reporting of hazing incidents, the law grants immunity from civil or criminal liability to any person who reports a specific hazing event in good faith and without malice to the Dean of Students or other appropriate University official, such as staff in the Office of Student Conduct & Community Standards. A person may also be granted amnesty for any potential liability in university student conduct proceedings. Additionally, a doctor or other medical practitioner who treats a student who may have been subjected to hazing may make a good faith report of the suspected hazing activities to police or other law enforcement officials and is immune from civil or other liability that might otherwise be imposed or incurred as a result of the report. The penalty for the failure to report incidents of hazing is a fine of up to $1,000, up to 180 days in jail, or both. Penalties for other hazing offenses vary according to the severity of the injury which results and include fines from $500 to $10,000 and/or up to two years of jail time. Failure to report hazing incidents may also result in institutional penalties for failure to report or include statistics, civil litigation, and individual liability.

Students who have knowledge of hazing activity can report it to the Office of Student Conduct & Community Standards by clicking here or to the Southern Methodist University Police Department or both. Information about hazing may also be reported anonymously through the SMU Police Department's Silent Witness Program by calling 214-SMU-2TIP or online at <http://www.smu.edu/2tip>. You can also report hazing anonymously via Real Response by texting 205-TXT2SMU where a staff member in the Office of the Dean of Students will respond to you. Anonymous reports of hazing activity may also be made through the SMU Fraud Reporting Program, by calling 844-995-4895, or accessing the online portal at: smu.ethicspoint.com or the mobile reporting site: smumobile.ethicspoint.com.

Number of Hazing Reports from June 1, 2025, to December 23, 2025

- SMU received 28 reports of alleged hazing activities by organizations during the reporting period of June 1 – December, 23, 2025. Two (2) reports resulted in investigations One (1) organization was found responsible for hazing.

Student Organization Investigation Process

- When a report of alleged hazing activity is received by the Office of the Dean of Students it is reviewed to determine whether there is sufficient information to warrant further investigation
- If an investigation is warranted, the Office of the Dean of Students will send a notice of investigation to the student organization and matter is referred to the Office of Equity and Opportunity (OEO).
- OEO will investigate the allegation(s) and then determine whether the student organization violated university policy.
- If the Student Organization is found not responsible for violation(s) of university policy(ies) the Dean of Students will notify the Student Organization, and no further action will be taken, however, the report and outcome will be included in SMU's disclosure of hazing statistics
- If the Student Organization is found responsible for violation(s) of university policy(ies), the Office of the Dean of Students will determine the appropriate process for resolution, via one of the following processes:
 - (a) Organization Accountability Agreement: In consultation with the Student Organization (and their headquarters, coach, or advisor where applicable), the University will work to develop an accountability plan which may include, but is not limited to sanctions that affect the organization's standing with the University and educational sanctions to address the policy violation(s). The Organization Accountability Agreement (OAA) may not be appealed. If, after two (2) weeks, the University and the Student Organization cannot come to an agreement, the Student Organization will be sanctioned pursuant to Option (b). If the Student Organization is found to have engaged in activities which constitute additional violations of any University policy during the duration of OAA, the OAA may be subject to extension and/or altered to include additional requirements and/or sanctions.
 - (b) Sanctions assigned by the Office of the Dean of Students: The Dean of Students, or his or her designee, will assign sanctions appropriate to the violations of University Policy. The assigned sanctions may be appealed by following the steps outlined in the Conduct Review Process.
- To see SMU's appeal process, please reference the SMU Student Handbook. See link below.

Hazing Prevention

- The Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life offers regular hazing education presentations. SMU also offers an online hazing prevention course to incoming students. Pursuant to §51.9361 of the Texas Education Code, officers and advisors of all registered student organizations must annually complete risk management training on hazing, alcohol/drug use, sexual assault/harassment, event safety, travel, and disability support.

How to Report Hazing:

- To report a hazing incident you may use the Hazing Reporting Form. This form notifies the Office of Student Conduct & Community Standards that a hazing incident has been reported. If you prefer speaking to someone about the incident, please call the Office of Student Conduct & Community Standards at 214-768-4563.
- You can also report hazing anonymously via Real Response by texting 205-TXT2SMU where a member of the Office of the Dean of Students will respond to you.
- If you are experiencing an emergency, please contact the SMU Police Department immediately at 214-768-3333.
