

Associa

Associa is the global leader in community management services. Headquartered in Dallas with 300 branch offices across North America, it delivers all-encompassing real estate solutions, including property management, maintenance and construction, brokerage and leasing, financial services, and technology to tens of thousands of homeowner associations and nearly 7.5 million residents worldwide. Guided by its mission to bring positive impact and meaningful value to communities, Associa and its 15,000 employees offer programs that focus on doing good for people and the planet. Its programs include Associa Supports Kids, Associa Cares, The Great Giveback and Associa Green.

A privately held company, Associa was founded in 1979 by John Carona. Associa's focus on giving back to the community mirrors Carona's own pursuit. Carona served five terms in the Texas Senate and three in the Texas House of Representatives. He has held numerous advisory and board positions with a variety of organizations and, along with his wife, Helen, is a generous supporter of philanthropic organizations across the country.
