

The Clements Foundation

The Clements Foundation, established in 1968 by the late Gov. William P. Clements, Jr. supports charitable organizations in the state of Texas and the Southwest. The foundation has primarily been focused in the fields of education, health care, history and national defense. The Clements Center for Southwest Studies, SMU-in-Taos, UT Southwestern Medical Center in Dallas and the Clements Center for National Security at UT Austin are examples of projects that have been supported by the Clements Foundation. SMU President Willis M. Tate, for whom the Tate Lecture Series is named, was a good friend of Clements, and the foundation is pleased to continue its support of these lectures, which benefit SMU students, faculty and the greater Dallas community.
