Looking for some work experience?

Camp Summit is looking to hire college students, particularly those with disabilities, to work at their camp in nearby Tarrant County during spring break and summer.

The camp is unique in that it is for campers with disabilities and doesn't have an age limit for campers. Camp counselors would need to be sensitive and patient and ready to help others.

Kurzweil/Firefly Reader

DASS has partnered with Central University Libraries and ADSA to continue another year membership with Kurzweil-Firefly. This powerful text-to-speech software is now available to ALL SMU students. For DASS students, contact your coordinator to receive login information. You will then be able to scan in your texts and listen to them read aloud to you from any computer! You'll even be able to download the full Kurzweil software program to your computer-don't miss out on this unique opportunity.

And

If you have used the Kurzweil/Firefly text reader, please give DASS feedback on how you like it. If we don't hear from students about its benefit, we may not renew the membership next semester. Share your feedback, great or small, with dass@smu.edu.
