“I'm still discovering, right up to this moment, that it is only by living completely in this world that one learns to have faith. I mean living unreservedly in life's duties, problems, successes and failures, experiences and perplexities. In so doing, we throw ourselves completely into the arms of God.”---Dietrich Bonhoeffer

“Evangelism is just one beggar telling another beggar where to find bread.”
--D. T. Niles

Course Description:

A critical examination of fundamental features of evangelistic practice as related especially to the ministry of evangelism in the local church. Particular attention will be given to the following: evangelistic preaching, faith sharing, and the equipping of the local church members for the tasks of evangelization. Attention also be given to evangelism and mission in an increasingly urbanized world. Three Credit Hours.

Required Reading

David Leong, Street Signs: Toward a Missional Theology of Urban Cultural Engagement

Harold J. Recinos, Good News from the Barrio: Prophetic Witness for the Church

Pre-Course Assignments (20%)

1. Read all textbooks.
2. Write a 2-page assessment paper of each required book bearing in mind the following question: “What makes evangelism in a diverse and urbanizing world challenging and difficult?”
3. Write a 1-page definition paper: “How do I (personally) define evangelism?”

Requirements:
1. Individual preparation of a supplementary reading article in précis form and presented orally in class. (20%).

2. A final paper of 15-20 pages on a topic related to this course with accompanying bibliography. (40%). Papers should explore contextual characteristics and cultural dynamics of a general nature to which the concerns of ministry and evangelism must respond (e.g., Christian witness with specific ethnic or immigrant groups; social class groups; inner city gangs; specific religious groups; specific language communities, and so forth). Due: February 21

3. Class attendance and participation (20%).

Course Policies

ATTENDANCE: Class attendance is required. Excessive unexplained absences will reduce your final course grade.

ASSIGNMENTS: You must complete and turn in all required assignments to receive a passing grade in the course. Late papers are not accepted unless you make prior arrangements with me. GRADE OF INCOMPLETE (I): The grade of I (incomplete) indicates the failure to do some major portion of the required work in the course. The grade of I is granted by the Committee on Student Development, only on written request by the student. (For a complete discussion of I grade procedures, consult the Perkins School of Theology Catalog 2011-2013 page 55, Grades.)

PLAGRISM AND ACCAEDIMIC DISHONESTY (Consult the Perkins Student Handbook 2012-2013 pg. 59,g Appendix B): Do not turn in someone else's work as your own. All work must be done by you. Failing to adhere to these guidelines constitutes plagiarism and/or academic dishonesty. Failure to document sources and/or correctly integrate material into your written assignments is also considered plagiarism. Whenever you incorporate material from an outside source, whether electronic or print, you must document the source of this material and you must quote, paraphrase, or summarize the material correctly. Any form of plagiarism or academic dishonesty will result in an automatic "0" for the assignment. At the instructor's discretion, it may also result in an "F" for the final course grade and punishment by the university.

EXTENUATING CIRCUMSTANCES: If at any time during the semester personal crises prevent you from performing to the best of your abilities in the course, please notify me as early as possible. Before making exceptions to any of the policies stated in this syllabus, I have the right to request appropriate documentation. This might include letters from physicians, counselors, and/or academic advisors.

DISABILITIES: Perkins and SMU are dedicated to giving all students the best educational experience possible. As part of this goal, SMU and Perkins welcome the opportunity to work with all students with disabilities to obtain the resources needed to maximize their learning. Students needing academic accommodations for a disability must first contact Dr. Evelyn Parker, Associate Dean of Academic Affairs at Perkins (214-768-4334) or eparker@smu.edu at the start of classes. A helpful resource at SMU is the Services for Students with Disabilities office located in 220 Memorial Health Center, under the direction of Rebecca Marin (214-768-4557 or rmarin@smu.edu). Guidelines for documentation of disability are posted at http://smu.edu/studentlife/ssd/ossd_eligibility.asp and should be completed two week prior to the beginning of course work to allow for processing.

MINORITY CONCERNS AND THE PERKINS CURRICULUM: In 1975 the Perkins Senate passed resolutions which bear on the relation of the Perkins curriculum to this school's common concern for the status of ethnic minority groups and of women both in education for ministry and in the ministry itself. The following statement summarizes these resolutions with respect to all courses except those in the area of ministry.

1. Instructors and students alike are urged to use inclusive language, images and metaphors that give full and positive value to both the past contributions and the future prospects of ethnic minorities and women in the church and in the society at large.

2. Instructors and students alike are urged to give sensitive consideration to the role of images from a predominately white and male culture in shaping both the language and concepts of Christian theology and the models and methods of Christian ministry that are widely current today.

3. Instructors are urged to make every effort to provide-in the syllabi, assignments and formats of their courses-opportunities (a) for women students and students from ethnic minority groups to pursue their study with special reference to their own status or tradition and (b) for all students to become acquainted with the special problems.
