(Retain this syllabus for your personal files for future reference if needed)

The focus of this course will be on sexual experiences as a part of life experiences and the development of the skills and tools necessary to strengthen a client's positive relational and sexual functioning in a therapeutic setting. This course is designed as a study of sexual issues, positive sexual functioning, sexual problems, and sexual disorders that confront the counselor or therapist. In addition, the cultural aspects of human sexuality as reflected in the diverse ethnicities of northern New Mexico will also be addressed. This is a "how to" course, with the expectation being that each student will develop the knowledge and skills needed to orchestrate counseling sessions when the topic is sexuality. The student will work on understanding his or her own sexual attitudes and beliefs in order to bring as much congruence as possible into the therapy room. Thus, personal values clarification, sex education, cultural messages, gender role development, and relational patterns will be examined throughout the course.

Required Text: Long, L., Burnett, J., & Thomas, R.V. (2006). Sexuality Counseling: An Integrative Approach. New Jersey: Pearson Merrill Prentice Hall.

Course Requirements:

Class participation: 40% of grade – classroom contribution of a quality that reflects knowledge of readings, texts, reference material, skill development, and occasional written assignments. This also includes attendance; final grade can be impacted if you miss our class meetings, field trips, and working lunches and/or you are consistently late.

Sexual Portrait: 20% of grade - a personal sexuality assessment due on Friday, July 26, after dinner..

Project: 20% of grade – a traditional, scholarly paper based on a sexual counseling topic of your choice approved by the instructor. Due by Sunday, July 21, at 7:00 p.m.

Final Assessment: 20% of grade – a personal reflection paper covering the entire course and prepared after the completion of the course. Due by Saturday, August 2, 2014.

Remember that at SMU grades are recorded as A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C, C-.

In graduate school, any grade below a B- is considered unacceptable and repeating that particular course would be necessary.

Grade	Performance Description	Range	GPA	Points
A	Exceptional	93 – 100	4.0	12.0
A-	High Pass	90 – 92	3.7	11.1
B+		87 – 89	3.3	9.9
B	Pass	83 – 86	3.0	9.0
B-		80 – 82	2.7	8.1
C+	Failure, any C or below	77 – 79	2.3	6.9
C		73 – 76	2.0	6.0
C-		70 – 72	1.7	5.1
D+		67 – 69	1.3	3.9
D		63 – 66	1.0	3.0

Grade of Incomplete

A student may receive a grade of I (Incomplete) if at least 50 percent of the course requirements have been completed with passing grades, but for some justifiable reason, acceptable to the instructor, the student has been unable to complete the full requirements of the course. At the time a grade of I is given, the instructor must stipulate in writing to the student and to the University registrar the requirements and completion date that are to be met and the grade that will be given if the requirements are not met by the completion date. The maximum period of time allowed to clear the Incomplete grade normally is 12 months. If the Incomplete grade is not cleared by the date set by the instructor or by the end of the 12-month Policies and Procedures 25 deadline, the grade of I will be changed to the grade provided by the instructor at the time the Incomplete grade was assigned or to a grade of F if no alternate grade was provided. The grade of I is not given in lieu of a grade of F or W, or other grade, each of which is prescribed for other specific circumstances.

If the student's work is incomplete, poor quality and not acceptable, a grade of F will be given. The grade of I does not authorize a student to attend the course during a later term. Graduation candidates must clear all Incomplete grades prior to the deadline in the Official University Calendar, which may allow less time than 12 months. Failure to do so can result in removal from the degree candidacy list and/or conversion of the grade of I to the grade indicated by the instructor at the time the grade of I was given.

For graduate students, a maximum of two (six hours) concurrently held grades of Incomplete in courses other than thesis is allowed. If this maximum is reached, the student will be allowed to take only one three-hour course per term until the Incomplete total is reduced. Students who accumulate a total of three grades of Incomplete in courses other than thesis will be put on probation and not allowed to enroll further until the total is reduced.

Learning Objectives and Measurable Outcome:

At the end of this course, students will be able to:

Learning Objective	Measurable Outcome
Articulate a conceptual framework regarding sexuality counseling and therapy.	Students will demonstrate these skills through scholarly paper project, exams, and class discussion.
Better understand the nature of personal sexual background in relation to therapeutic style, approach, and theory.	Students will exhibit this awareness through their sexual portrait and class discussion.
Apply various models of theoretical intervention to problematic therapy situations.	Students will demonstrate these skills during role play, class discussion, and exams.
Critically assess sexual function and dysfunction.	Students will articulate their understanding of these concepts through scholarly paper project, class discussion, and exams.
Articulate the concept of change in the context of couple dynamics.	Students will demonstrate an understanding of these issues through class discussion and oral discourse.
Demonstrate skills and tools for intervention in sexual counseling settings.	Students will exhibit these abilities through role play and exams.

*If you are absent, it is your responsibility to contact a classmate or your instructor in case we have adjustments in our schedule.

Disability Accommodations: If you need academic accommodations for a disability, you must first contact Ms. Rebecca Marin, Coordinator, and Services of Students with Disabilities (214-768-4557; 220Memorial Health Center) to verify the disability and to establish accommodations. Then you should schedule an appointment with the instructor to make appropriate arrangements. (See university Policy No. 2.4)

Religious observance: Religiously observant students wishing to be absent on holidays that require missing class should notify their professors in writing at the beginning of the semester, and should discuss with them, in advance, acceptable ways of making up any work missed because of the absence. (See university Policy No. 1.9)

Excused Absences for University Extracurricular Activities: Students participating in an officially sanctioned, scheduled university extracurricular activity will be given the opportunity to make up class assignments or other graded assignments missed as result of their participation. It is the responsibility of the student to make arrangements with the instructor prior to any missed scheduled examination or other missed assignment for making up the work. (University Undergraduate Catalogue)

Statement on Confidentiality and Emotional Safety:

In order to provide a safe learning environment for students in the class and to protect the confidentiality of practice clients and class members, students will discuss case material and other's personal information, reactions, etc. only while in class or privately with other current class members. It is the responsibility of each class member to treat classmates with respect and integrity, thus providing emotional safety for each other during class activities. All students in the Counseling Department will demonstrate behavior that is consistent with the Ethical Standards forwarded by the APA and ACA in their code of ethics. Failure to do so can result in termination from the Department.

Statement on Academic Integrity:

Students are reminded of the SMU Honor Code as referenced in the Student Handbook. Intellectual integrity and academic honesty are both the foundation and the goals for this program. Please reference and review the university policies on the responsibilities, policies, and penalties regarding academic honesty found at:

http://www.smu.edu/studentlife/PCL_05_HC.asp

Statement on Class Decorum:

Please turn off (or set on vibrate) all cell phones or pagers. Please do not read newspapers, books for other classes, or other outside reading material during class, or use laptops for non class related activities during class. Walking into class late is disruptive, as is leaving early, so please avoid this whenever possible. If you have to leave early, make arrangements before class begins, and then when you leave, do so quietly. Professional respect and courtesy for your fellow students is expected at all times.

Statement on Responsibility:

The responsibility of the tour operator, Southern Methodist University, is limited. They act only as agents for the passenger in regard to travel, whether by railroad, motor coach, private car, boat, aircraft or any other conveyance. They assume no liability for injury, damage, loss, accident, delay or irregularity which may be occasioned either by reason of defect in any vehicle, or through the acts or default of any company or person engaged in conveying passengers, or in carrying out the arrangements of the tour. The operator can accept no responsibility for loss or additional expenses due to the delay or changes in schedules or other causes. The right is reserved to decline, accept or retain any person as a member of any tour, in the interests of the passengers, as circumstances demand it.

Statement Regarding Contract:

The Counseling Department is required to sign a contract with SMU-in-Taos in order to finalize our class at Ft. Burgwin. Below are some stipulations, among others, which we are required to follow:

Housing Policies: Participants shall at all times conduct themselves responsibly in the use of Campus housing and shall obey all city, state and federal laws and the rules and regulations of SMU –in Taos. No minors are permitted to be in the possession or presence of alcoholic beverages on Campus. The SMU-in-Taos campus is alcohol and drug free in all buildings and grounds. Permission is required for alcoholic beverages to be consumed on any campus property.

Property Damage: Group agrees it will be financially responsible for any property damage caused to any campus facilities used by Participants which occurs during the time such facilities are used by Participants. “Facility” encompasses all university owned and/or leased property, including but not limited to housing, academic and administrative offices, classrooms, appliances, vehicles, equipment and grounds.

Estimated Costs: Costs for facilities includes the facility itself and the furnishings and equipment normally present in the facilities. Cost of standard custodial services are also included. These estimated costs may vary if Group requests additional arrangements or equipment not present in facilities listed, and/or additional facilities to those listed, and if other factors arise that require additional facilities, preparation, equipment and/or services to be provided on the part of SMU in Taos. An invoice setting out detail of all final facilities’ costs will be provided to Group within 60 days after Event.

Indemnification: By signing an approval on this letter agreement, Group hereby agrees that neither SMU, its trustees, officers, employees, students, agents nor assigns shall be liable for any injuries, damages, claims, demands, actions or causes of action whatsoever that may arise out of or have a connection with the Event and/or with the presence of Participants and others associated with Group and/or Event and Group hereby agrees to forever release, discharge, indemnify, hold harmless and defend SMU, its trustees, officers, employees, students, agents and assigns for any such injuries, damages, claims, demands, actions or causes of action.

Sexuality Counseling/Therapy Project

Summer Term, 2014
Taos, New Mexico

“The older I’ve gotten, the more impressed I have become by sexuality . . . (it) is one of the few things that keeps me humble, because it’s bigger than I am.”

Scott Peck

This project will be an 8-10 page professionally written paper based on a topic you choose. The most important aspect of your class project for this course is that you select topic within the field of sexuality counseling and therapy that has meaning to you; something that you can take with you and find applicable to your counseling life. Be sure and check with me regarding your choice.

- (1) Write a one page summary or overview of why you have selected a particular topic and what interests you about it. This summary is due by June 26th and sent to me by email.
- (2) Prepare an 8-10 page scholarly paper (double spaced, 12 point type) using APA format to document your research.
- (3) Select a primary source around which to center your study. In most cases this will be a book written about the topic you select.
- (4) In addition, in your paper reference at least five other professional sources (articles, essays, segments from other books, etc) using appropriate APA documentation.
- (5) Your paper is due at our first class meeting at Ft. Burgwin on Sunday, July 20, 2014. Please deliver it to me in a folder of some sort that will protect it during the week and the travel back to Texas.

Sexuality Portrait

“At the very heart of sex lies a profound affirmation of life, giving us a reason for living, optimism, and energy.”

Thomas Moore

Sexuality is beyond complex; in many ways it is unfathomable. But the purpose of this assignment is to help you conceptualize, as best you can, your own sexual persona; i.e., that part of self that through the very nature of the counseling process is drawn into those conversations with our clients whenever sexuality becomes a part of therapy. And the purpose is not necessarily to experience your darkest sexual chapters, although that may begin to happen; instead, it is for you to ask questions and look at aspects of your sexual self that you may have never taken the time to confront. A better understanding of our own sexuality ultimately impacts the congruence we bring to each of our clients, and, as such, gives our clients a better chance at understanding themselves.

This project will be due after dinner on Friday, July 25th, no later than 10:00 p.m. I will not read your work, but when you turn it in to me and while we are sitting there I will scan your portrait to make sure you thoroughly addressed the requirements of the assignment. After recording your grade, I will return it to you before you leave breakfast. This essentially means that the only person who will read your portrait will be you or anyone else with whom you choose to share it. This project is aimed at your own growth within an area that is ultimately private and belongs to you.

With that in mind, the following outline will provide a structure for your personal “sexuality portrait.”

- I. Cover Sheet and Table of Contents - utilize the painting you produce in class if you wish or other appropriate design. Bring a folder in which to present your “Portrait” to me on the last Saturday.
- II. Prepare your own sexual genogram based on the article provided in class, your textbook, class discussions, and other sources you may choose to pursue. Try to make this at least a three generation genogram. As part of this segment, answer the questions in the article, “The Sexual Genogram” found at the bottom of page 41 and the top of page 42. This article is in your binder and the questions are also listed in your text book in Chap. 3.
- III. Fill out the sexual history form presented in class. Since you may choose to later use this or a similar form with clients, this will give you a chance to see how they might feel with it is their turn to fill out a sexual history. And, of course, it will allow you to review your own sexual history.
- IV. Create a section for sexual reflections. This is essentially a journal that you write once a day while we are in Taos where you reflect on your own growth as a sexual person. This is a time for you to examine your own sexual legacy in relation to the various topics we address during the week or to other thoughts you choose to pursue.

- V. A fifth section is for “sexual fantasy.” You will pattern this part of your project after the exercise we do on Tuesday during class.
- VI. The sixth and final section is devoted to music, movies, literature, and spirituality. Most of us have been influenced in our sexual development by certain readings (stories, books, magazines, etc.), certain songs (both serious and not so serious), certain movies (comedies and tragedies), and perhaps our spiritual development that left an indelible mark on our sexual persona. Review those influences in your life and how they have affected your own sexuality. Feel free to add any other dynamics that may have impacted your sexual development. I suggest that you begin work on this section prior to arriving at Ft. Burgwin.

You have, of course, the last say as to what goes into your “sexual portrait”, so feel free to add anything you feel is significant. My suggestion to you is that you plan on saving this project so you can review it from time to time to keep in mind your own sexual world view in relation to the clients with whom you work. Due to the personal nature of this project, protect it accordingly.

Sexual Project Rubric

Criteria	“A” range 90-100	“B” range 80-89	“C” range 70-79
Introduction and Conclusion 20%	Groundwork is clearly laid out for the direction of the paper. Author makes succinct, insightful conclusions based on the review.	Readers are introduced to the overall topic. Concluding remarks show some synthesis of ideas though not all are supported in body of paper.	Neither implicit nor explicit reference is made to topic. No indication author tried to synthesize information.
Body; Flow of the Review 20%	Transitions tie sections together as well as adjacent paragraphs. Paper flows from general ideas to specific conclusions.	There is a basic flow from one section to the next, but not all sections or paragraphs fall in a natural or logical order.	The paper appears to have no direction, with subtopics appearing disjointed.
Coverage of Content 20%	The appropriate content is covered in depth without being redundant. Sources are cited when specific statements are made.	All major sections of the pertinent content are included, but not covered in as much depth, or as explicit, as expected.	Major sections of pertinent content have been omitted, glossed over, or unnecessarily repeated.
Sources and Citations 20%	More than six sources are used to create the paper, with the majority of research articles utilized. Citations follow APA format. Essential information is accurate and complete.	Six sources are used to create the paper, with mostly practitioner articles used. Citations follow APA format; however a few errors in essential information are evident.	Less than six sources are used, with no research articles cited. More than two citations did not follow APA format; or essential information is missing.
Clarity of Writing and Mechanics 20%	Writing is crisp, clear, and succinct. Writer incorporates creative voice when appropriate. No spelling, grammar, or punctuation errors are made.	Writing is generally clear, but unnecessary words are occasionally used. Meaning is sometimes hidden. A few spelling, grammar or punctuation errors are made.	It is hard to know what the writer is trying to express. Writing is convoluted. Misspelled words, incorrect grammar, and improper punctuation are frequent.
